Please honor this agreement and do not share the flash drive while the files are on it.

Please note that the End User License Agreement specifies that the license is non-transferrable. In a second location as well, as a backup. Then the flash drive can be erased and reused for other purposes. Since you can access the files within the folder you have created on your computer, copy the files to a second location as well, as a backup. Then the flash drive can be erased and reused for other purposes. The hash drive is merely the transport mechanism for the files.

Installing the Home Study Companion Files

http://www.math4childrenplus.com