INSTRUCTIONS

Have the students trace the gray letters starting from the points indicated by the arrows, moving left to right on each line.

After completing the traced letters, the students should fill out the lines by repeating what they just practiced tracing.

Check the students' work line by line. It is important that the students have maintained the proper angle and have made the letters touch the ground, center and top lines as instructed in the back of this book. If the students have not correctly imitated the letters, repeat the exercise.

The Greatest Commandment and the Lord's Prayer should have each line traced then repeated again immediately underneath the traced lettering.

This Classically Cursive workbook teaches students the Modern Cursive style of handwriting. Modern Cursive is a simple handwriting style that enables students to make an easy transition from Modern Manuscript printing to cursive. This program is classical in its methodology by having the students imitate excellent handwriting while copying selections of worthwhile content.

Classically Cursive Book 1 reviews Modern Manuscript printing then introduces the Modern Cursive style of handwriting. This book then applies these lessons to the writing out of the books of the Bible, the Greatest Commandment and the Lord's Prayer.
