"Look, Lee Anne," said Lynda. "See how fat you were when you were a baby!" laughed Lynda.

Lee Anne made a face. "Well, Lynda, look how small you were. You're not small now. What happened?" asked Lee Anne.

"I guess I grew some," answered Lynda. "We sure have changed!" The girls turned a page in the picture album and started to laugh. "Mother, are you sure these pictures are of us?" asked Lynda.

"That's right," answered Mother. "It is hard to believe, isn't it?"

"Say, Lynda, you were a pretty baby," said Lee Anne. Then she grinned and said, "But you sure didn't have much hair."

"But look at you, Lee Anne," said Lynda. "You had yellow, curly hair. Now your hair is dark. It is not very curly, either. Both of us have sure changed!"

"Do you girls know why you have changed so much?" asked Mother.

"Well, one reason is because we grew," said Lynda.

"You are growing up," said Mother. "You wouldn't want to stay a baby always, would you?"

"No way!" answered Lee Anne.

Mother said, "God made you in a way that you would grow and change. As you run and play, your body gets bigger and stronger. As you eat good food, you grow. As you sleep and rest, you are growing and changing, too.

"When you were a baby, someone had to feed you. As you grew up, you learned to feed yourself.

“When you were a baby, you could not talk. As you grew, you learned to say the sounds you heard. You learned to say words and soon began to talk.

“When you were a baby, you could not walk either. As you played, ate good food, and got lots of sleep, your body grew. Your body got stronger. Soon your legs were strong enough to hold you up. You began to walk.

“You have grown and changed in many ways. When you went to school, you learned many things. Your mind grew. When you went to church, you learned about God. Yes, you have grown and changed in many, many ways,” said Mother.

“The way we grow and change is really a miracle, isn’t it?” asked Lynda.

“Only God could make a miracle like that,” answered Lee Anne.

“That’s right,” said Mother. “The Bible says in Psalm 139:4, you are ‘...fearfully and wonderfully made.’”
