Lesson 1

Teacher Guide

Background and Summary:

“But when the fullness of time was come, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, born under the law.” These words of Paul in Gal. 4:4 speak to the historical climax that was the birth of Christ. As we will see in this third part of our study, the fate of all peoples depends upon how they respond to God’s climax in history. The Scripture for this lesson in particular highlights the proper responses of three very significant people. Each responded to the appearance of God’s Messiah with a beautiful song of praise to the Lord.

First, Mary replied to the angel Gabriel’s remarkable news with a statement of utter submission: “Behold, I am the handmaiden (bondservant) of the Lord.” Her willing submission to such an astounding revelation demonstrates an enthusiastic readiness to serve God (Luke 1:46-55).

Next, Zacharias began to praise the Lord and prophesy over his son as soon as he received back his powers of speech. His adoration of God beautifully announces the mighty redemption of Israel and the fulfillment of all God’s covenant faithfulness (Luke 1:68-79).

Lastly, Simeon, a devout man of God described as “waiting for the consolation of Israel,” reveled over the infant Messiah. After meeting Jesus, Simeon knew that his hopes for Israel’s restoration would soon be realized.

Not only do the faithful responses of these three provide us with rich poetry and praise to God, but they also show us the measure of sincere spirituality. Those that recognize Jesus as Messiah and Savior truly know God, but those who disregard Jesus have no knowledge of God. Because these people had an understanding of God’s ways, they were able to properly respond to God’s most profound act in history: sending His Son to Earth. As we engage the life of Jesus, we should pay careful attention to how people receive him, for they are actually receiving the one who sent him (“He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father which hath sent him,” John 5:23b).

Memory Verse

The Magnificat - Luke 1:46-55

And Mary said,

My soul doth magnify the Lord and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior.
For He hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden:
for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.
For he that is mighty hath done great things for me and holy is his name.
And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.
He hath shown great strength with his arm;
he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
He hath put down the mighty from their seats,
and exalted them of low degree.
He hath filled the hungry with good things,
and the rich he hath sent empty away.
He hath helped his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy;
as he spake to our fathers, to Abraham and his seed forever.

Big Picture of the Bible:

Include these selected readings from other Bible passages to emphasize important points from this lesson and reinforce larger Scriptural themes.

- Isaiah 7:14 for the prophecy about the virgin giving birth. Matthew quotes this prophecy in 1:23 to emphasize the greater fulfillment of that sign in the birth of Jesus—the embodiment of “God with us.”
- Isaiah 9:6-7 for the prophet’s announcement of the kind of reign Jesus will have as heir to David’s throne.
- Luke 2:36-38 for the story of the aged prophetess Anna, another witness to the infant Messiah who was eager for the redemption of Israel.
