

11. A Winter's Fall

Fatima has just learned to snowboard. She likes it. She feeling fair confident about her ability to handle the board and decides to try jumping. A small hill. A hill will be difficulter than the smooth slope. She steered towards the hill and lifts the board in the air. She clears the hill and comes down the other side. She leans back. Her board slips out from under her. She lands on her face in the snow. Luckily, only her pride is hurt.

Fatima jumps her first hill successfully but falls backward into the snow as she comes down the other side.

Find the 7 errors in this activity. There are no errors in the illustration or the caption.
