Informational Text: Social Studies

The text below has a lot of words that are homophones. Read the text and then answer the questions.

Barbara Jordan was the first African American woman from the South elected to Congress. In 1972, that was a historic feat. Much has changed since then, but let's look back at the past.

Barbara Jordan was born in Houston, Texas, in 1936. She was a top student in high school and college. Jordan worked for the election of President John F. Kennedy. His election moved her to run for Texas State Senate, and she won. She was the first black woman to serve in that post.

Later she ran for Congress, and she won. "What the people want is very simple," she often said. "They want an America as good as its promise." Barbara Jordan aimed to keep that promise. She fought for fair treatment for all.

In 1979, Jordan left Congress to teach. She said, "The world is not a playground, but a schoolroom." She taught at the University of Texas, a university she was once banned from attending. America had changed, however. Barbara Jordan helped the country heal past injustices.

1. What historic feat did Barbara Jordan accomplish in 1972?

2. Write the sentence from the end of the text that describes how Barbara Jordan helped the country. Circle any words that are homophones in your answer.

3. What did Barbara Jordan fight for?
