Christmas 'Tis the Season

Welcome to the Rainbow Resource Center Christmas & Gift Catalog!

This is the year that we were supposed to return to "normal" after the tumultuous year of 2020, however, rising prices, labor shortages, manufacturing problems and shipping delays have made 2021 anything but normal. Yet Christmas is the season of "Peace on earth, good will to men." (Luke 2:14) We hope that, despite the challenges of the year, this is a season of warmth, peace, and joy for you and your family. Thank you for your interest in the products that we offer: puzzles, games, kits, and toys that strengthen problem-solving skills, build fine motor skills and expand knowledge - all through play! Our catalog features items that we have in stock or expect to be available, but we recommend checking our website for current availability information and ordering as early as possible. We look forward to serving you again this year, as we have since 1989! Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from our Rainbow Resource Family to yours!

*For the Glory of God,
Bob & Linda Schneider and family, and all your friends at Rainbow Resource Center*

Christmas Cover: "Flurries of Festivity" features Ramsey, Gemma & Roxy.

Ticket to Ride® (ages 8+)

This game has become one of our family favorites. 2 to 5 players draw tickets to connect rail routes between major cities and attempt to complete them in the most direct route possible. Routes are built in sections of 1 to 6 railcars based on playing cards of the designated color for the section. Longer routes and longer sections score more points than shorter ones. Since routes can have sections that overlap, competition for certain segments adds to the excitement. Strategy is not too complicated, so that younger players are not at a disadvantage. Games take from 45 to 75 minutes, depending on the number of players. The basic game is based on North American geography, while TTR Europe has slightly different rules and covers Europe and eastern Asia. There are many more expansions and editions available in other geographic localities, each with its own geographic challenges to overcome. Expansions require Ticket to Ride or Ticket to Ride Europe to play. See our website for other Ticket to Ride games to play. Happy travels! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Wingspan (ages 9+)

Will you develop the most successful aviary, by attracting and collecting the most birds, eggs, and food? While definitely a strategy game, the rules are fairly simple with a good mix of strategy and luck. The game components in this strategic game are beautiful: 170 different illustrated bird cards, miniature eggs in a variety of colors, a birdfeeder dice tower, and large playing mats. Players compete to develop their aviaries, and as they play bird cards, each starts a chain reaction of effects in your habitat. The winner is the player who collects the most points from birds, eggs, food, bonus cards, and goals met. 1-5 players (and unlike most strategy games, this one also works really well with two players), with a game time of 40-70 minutes. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

028550 Game .....

078595 European Expansion NEW! .....

19.95

Adds 81 new bird cards representing the lovely birds of Europe (some with a fresh type of activation), 5 new bonus cards, 4 new Automa cards, and 5 new goal tiles to shake things up.

079181 Oceania Expansion (10+) NEW! .....

Introduces nectar, a special type of food, that has three main functions: it's a unique bird food for some new bird cards, as a "wild" food type, and as a commodity in each of the habitat rows. It also grants players who spent the most nectar in each row bonus points. Also includes new player mats, birds with yellow "game end" activations, 95 new bird cards from the Oceania region, 5 new bonus cards, and 4 new goal tiles for even more variety in your 'Spanning!'

Kingdomino™ (ages 8+)

This clever domino-style tile game is fantastic for families! Each piece is a numbered tile with each half representing a combination of grass-land, wheat, forest, sea, or mountain. In each round, tiles are drawn and arranged in order. Players take turns claiming tiles. Players add the tiles to their kingdom. Then, a player places their king on the next set of tiles and the cycle continues. When a player finishes his 5x5 kingdom, scores are counted, and the player with the most points wins. The clever mechanics, simple premise, and colorful illustrations ensure that the whole family can get in on this delightful game! 2-4 players; 15 minutes.

066877 Kingdomino..... 16.95

072821 Age of Giants Expansion..... 16.50

Giants have settled in your kingdom, and like all vagrants, they're decreasing real-estate values! This expansion adds new "giant" dominoes, challenge tiles, and components for a 5th player to join in any game of Kingdomino or Queendomino. Requires (and compatible with) Kingdomino or Queendomino.

075207 Kingdomino Duel..... 10.95

All the flavor of Kingdomino™ in a 2-player dice-based game. In this independent version you roll four dice and choose two to combine into a "domino" which you draw into your kingdom.

014044 Queendomino..... 24.95

A stand-alone game similar to Kingdomino but with added complexity. Coins have been added, which allow players to purchase buildings and accrue points in a more specialized fashion, and a Queen and a Dragon inhabit the kingdom, providing advantages to the players who acquire or bribe them. Queendomino can also be combined with Kingdomino for a few variations and up to 8 players!

079041 Dragomino (ages 5+) NEW!..... 16.95

This introductory version combines terrain dominoes with... baby dragons! Players draw a domino from the table. If they match, they draw a dragon egg token and flip it over. Some dragon eggs hold baby dragons, and others are empty. The more baby dragons you hatch while building your tile landscape, the more points you get. Play continues until all dominoes have been claimed. For 2-4 players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

The Farming Game (ages 7+)

Round up your livestock, harvest your wheat, and keep an eye on the hay if you manage your farm right, you might just come out on top! A trip around the board is a cycle of one year, and players will be able to purchase acreage, livestock, or equipment at various points along the way. Also, during the appropriate season, they get the opportunity to harvest their hay, corn, wheat, and fruit, and to auction off their livestock. A roll of the dice determines what the market pays at that time for the different commodities. An enjoyable family game that is easy to learn and fun to play, The Farming Game teaches how to balance income with debt and operational expenses as players battle to be the best farm. For 2-6 players.

041802 Farming Game..... 32.95

043688 Farming Game Kids (ages 4+)..... 22.95

This version lets more youthful farmers race to see who can gather the most produce before they reach the finish. Players stock up on corn, watermelon, eggs, and apples on their way along the game path, and, depending on the level of game play, also have an opportunity to sell their produce and collect money. Three levels of play. For up to 4 players.

NEW Planet Game (ages 8+)

Do you have what it takes to create a world teeming with life? In this game of celestial craftsmanship, players take turns adding continents consisting of one or more habitats to fill up the 12 spaces of their dodecahedron-shaped planet. As the planets fill out with habitats, life emerges! From the 3rd turn onward, players try to meet the conditions of randomly selected animals who prefer to live in certain ecosystems. For example, whales thrive on planets with the most oceans, while scorpions prefer deserts disconnected from glacial regions. The player whose planet contains the most of these preferred regions wins the animal, adding it to their planet. Once all planets are fully developed, the game ends, and players score points for each animal they have gained. Adding a hint of unpredictability is each player's hidden objective card, which calls for a planet to contain a lot of one habitat. The unique aesthetic of adding land to a planet, the underlying unpredictability, and the simple mechanics help this game to remain interesting time after time. It should appeal to children of all ages. For 2-4 players, with a 30-minute playtime.

075208..... 28.95

NEW Minecraft: Builders & Biomes Game (ages 10+)

It's rare for a video game theme to fit so well into a board game, but this screen-free rendition captures the spirit of Minecraft while providing a unique experience of its own. Features like the 4 x 4 x 4 resource cube, made up of 5 different materials found in Minecraft, bring the theme home. Play begins in a Minecraft-esque "Overworld", surrounded by face-down dirt blocks and weapons. Players can take two of five possible actions each turn: mine for resources; explore the overworld to reveal Mobs and Buildings; collect an adjacent Weapon; fight an adjacent revealed Mob; and build an adjacent Building by discarding resources.

Much of the scoring is based on the 3 x 3 "Biome" board in front of each player, which players alter by constructing various buildings. Just like the sandbox which inspired it, there are many routes to victory. Becoming a dedicated builder can earn a predictable number of points each round, but a warrior fighting mobs will gain extra actions, end-of-game bonuses, and victory points! Though the number of components may seem daunting at first, the game-play is easily understood by kids 10 and up. For 2-4 players, with a playtime of 30-60 minutes.

020534 Base Game..... 41.99

028806 Farmer's Market Expansion..... 20.99

Adds a vegetable patch for players to cultivate, allowing them to purchase powerful items from the Farmer's Market for permanent bonuses. Those who opt for this long-term investment will reap what they've sown in the form of extra actions, additional resources, massive bonus points, and more!

Settlers of Catan® 5th Edition (ages 9+)

This game is the perfect blend of strategy and luck. What really makes this game unique is that the game board is different every time you play which keeps the game fresh and the strategy ever-changing. The primary contention in the game comes from settling around various resource tiles. Each tile on the board represents one of five different resources. Number tokens, ranging from 2-12, are placed on each tile. The game begins with an initial settlement phase, where each player gets to place two settlements on the corners of the resource hexagons. Any player who has settled on a tile whose number is rolled receives resources. Each player's turn typically consists of three "phases": rolling the dice to produce resources, trading (for needed resources), and building (using the resource cards in their hand to build roads, settlements, cities or buy development cards). The object of the game is to be the first player to reach 10 points, which are accumulated through developments like settlements, cities, having the longest road or largest army, etc. There are many different routes to victory, and those who conquer them will successfully settle the isle of Catan. 3-4 players (extensions allow for up to 2 additional players), game time is approximately 60 minutes. Expansion sets require the original Settlers of Catan® game to play. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

060268 Settlers of Catan . . . . . 44.00

Also requires Cities and Knights Expansion. 3-4 players.

032399 Frenemies of Catan . . . . . 4.50

This scenario encourages helpful behaviors, but that "goodwill" is just another route to your own victory!

Catan Dice Game™ (ages 7+)

Now you can enjoy Catan with dice! A double-sided, color score sheet features two different ways to play. Each one holds a map of Catan at the bottom and a building guide and scoring area at the top. The maps show a pre-set path of roads, settlements and cities, which have to be built in order, though you can choose different routes, and six knights around the outside. Two scenarios for play.

032398 . . . . . 10.40

Rivals for Catan (ages 10+)

Rivals for Catan is more of a board game created and played with cards. Each player begins with a "principality" consisting of resource fields, settlements, and roads. While similar to the standard game, the addition of an event die incurs brigand attacks, improves harvests, and more. The "action phase" allows players to play building & action cards, and build settlements, roads, and cities. Three "themes" are included, each introducing new concepts and adding challenges to the game. Once players have mastered each theme, "The Duel of the Princes" scenario can be played! For 2 players. 45-60 minutes.

037774 Card Game . . . . . 20.00
016880 Card Game Deluxe . . . . . 29.60

The same base components of the Rivals for Catan Card Game plus 9 promo cards and 4 custom card trays.

037796 Age of Darkness Expansion . . . . . 16.00

Introduces 3 new themes and includes new card types. Theme cards can be used in the "Duel of the Princes" scenario.

Catan® Family Edition (ages 9+)

This edition emphasizes simplicity and ease of understanding; the limited combinations available reduce the "random" factor intrinsic to Catan, but also make the game easier for kids or new players. It is faster to set up, and reduced variability makes the game more predictable and easier to catch on to. This version is stand-alone and not expandable with 5-6 player Catan extensions. 3-4 players; 60-90 minutes.

020903 . . . . . 24.00

Catan® Junior™ (ages 5+)

In this easier-to-play version, the island of Catan is replaced by a string of islands where players build pirate hideouts instead of settlements and cities, and make ships to expand their borders. Players use the resources of wood, goats, molasses, and swords and collect gold. The robber is replaced by the dreaded Ghost Captain. Be the first to have 7 pirate hideouts and win! 2-4 players; 45-60 minutes.

055081 . . . . . 24.00

Catan Histories - Settlers of America (ages 9+)

Translate the fictional realm of Catan into actual history! Game play is similar to the original Settlers of Catan, but with a few twists. Players start in the populous East as they build covered wagons, railways, and trains to expand West and keep their pioneers well-supplied. The goal is to create a sort of "resource chain" by expanding into new markets, acquiring goods, and beating your competitors to the best locations! Does not require Settlers of Catan to play. 3-4 players, 2-hour playtime.

073994 . . . . . 52.00

See inside front cover for key to Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act warning labels.

Corinth (ages 8+)

Ah, Corinth – marketplace of Greece! There's no better place to prove you're the savviest merchant in the Ancient World. Each round, the current player rolls the dice and places them on the market board. This determines how many of each type of good are available, from gold, to four types of goods, to goats. Players take turns claiming these and marking them on their sheet – goods provide points, while gold and goats can be used to build helpful buildings. After a certain number of rounds have passed, players tally their scores, and the most successful merchant wins! A quick-playing (20-30 minutes), compact game for 2-4 players.

Root Game (ages 10+)

In this adorable asymmetrical strategy game, players take control of four woodland factions vying for control of a forest. Players share the same basic abilities – moving characters around the board, gathering resources, collecting new cards and buildings, and fighting opponents' armies. But each faction plays a little differently, and the key to victory is focusing on your chosen faction's unique abilities and goals.

The Marquise de Cat and his band of tyrants have seized the woods, intent on harvesting wood and developing the land. The upstart Woodland Alliance has risen to challenge them – they covertly instill sympathy in those affected by the Marquis' rule, and foment uprisings to combat the other players. Meanwhile, the great birds of Eyrie have installed a charismatic leader intent on reclaiming their treetop throne. If they can assemble an avian army and capture the most territory, they may have a shot at driving out the others. All the while, Vagabonds roam the forest, partnering with some, and sabotaging others in order to fulfill a hidden quest. A unique game for 2-4 players, 60-90 minutes. Expansions require original Root game to play.

010235 Root ..... 48.00

010245 Riverfolk Expansion ..... 32.95

Allows up to 6 players to conquer the woods by adding two new factions: the Riverfolk Company and the Lizard Cult.

055664 Clockwork Expansion ..... 32.95

This expansion offers automated factions from the base Root game: the Mechanical Marquise 2.0, Electrical Eyrie, Automated Alliance, and Vagabot. Play solo, competitive, or cooperative games. 3 difficulty levels; compatible with other expansions; 1-4 players.

055669 Underworld Expansion (ages 14+) 40.00

Offers two new factions, Underground Duchy and Corvid Conspiracy, along with a new playing board with a Mountain Map and a Lake Map. 2-6 players.

Patchwork (ages 8+)

Inspired by patchwork quilting, this simple, quick-to-play strategy game is a race to complete as much of a quilt as possible. To begin, a series of colorful cardboard quilting fabrics (in a wide variety of sizes and shapes) are laid out on the table around a central board. Each patchwork piece has an associated button and time cost. Buttons are the currency and victory points of the game, while time forces players to move their tokens forward a certain number of spaces. Certain pieces also give players valuable "button income", triggered by specific spaces of the board. Players take turns (based on board position) moving forward, making money or buying patchwork pieces, and assembling them on their 9x9 gridded boards. The trick is to assemble the oddly-shaped fabrics together in a sensible manner, avoiding holes in the quilt which cannot be filled. The first player to assemble a perfect 7x7 square on his board wins a valuable 7-button reward. Perfect for strategists young and old. 2 players, ~30 minutes.

Dominion® (ages 10+)

This addictive game may just dominate your game nights! It is composed of three different types of cards (treasure, victory points and action), with players competing to accumulate the most victory points. Each player starts the game with a "weak" deck made up of low treasure and point cards. Play moves clockwise, with each player shuffling their deck, drawing five cards, and using them to buy cards (action, better treasure, etc.). The action cards vary greatly, but all are designed to enhance players' decks for future turns. The game requires delicate balance - you don't want to buy points too early because they will clog up your hand and weaken your deck, but if you wait too long you might miss out! The wide variety of action cards makes each game - and strategy! - different. Please note that while the original and Intrigue games are standalone, all of the other sets are expansions and must be added on to one of those two. The base cards replace the basic cards in Dominion and Dominion: Intrigue to provide enough additional cards to play with 5 or 6 players, or to play a Dominion expansion set without a standalone (rulebook not included). A few of the cards depict magical elements, but these can easily be removed without affecting game play. For 2-4 players.

048451 Dominion ..... 34.95

048452 Dominion: Intrigue ..... 30.95

028569 Big Box II ..... 57.95

Includes Dominion, Intrigue and extra base cards for 5-6 players.

Expansion Sets:

Quest for El Dorado (ages 10+)

The legendary golden city of El Dorado - a siren call for the heartiest adventurers! In this fast-paced game, players take on the roles of expedition leaders in search of treasure. Starting at one end of the jungle, players form a hand of 4 cards - an expedition - utilizing the skill of various explorers to reach El Dorado first. Each space on the board has unique terrain and difficulty: Jungles, Rivers, and Villages. A green "Jungle" explorer of Power 2, for example, could take the expedition across two "Difficulty 1" jungle spaces or a single "Difficulty 2" space. But the terrain gets tougher as the trek progresses, forcing players to hire new, more powerful explorers and expensive items! Modular boards (can be placed in multiple configurations), variable map length, and other variants add to the replayability of this unique family adventure game! 2017 Spiel des Jahres (Game of the Year) nominee. 2-4 players. 30-60 minute gameplay.

013371 Quest for El Dorado ..... 36.99

020553 Heroes & Hexes Expansion ..... 19.99

An expansion to the original game, this one features new terrain tiles, cave tiles, heroes and some additional mystical elements, like curses.

020549 Golden Temples ..... 41.99

This one can be played as a stand-alone or combined with The Quest (with or without the expansion). The explorers have reached El Dorado and must traverse the city to locate three gems and return them to the treasure chamber.

Oregon Trail™ Journey to Willamette Valley (ages 14+)

The ever-popular Oregon Trail game - now in a board game version! Players compete to get their oxen, wagon, supplies, and family members across the board, from Independence, MO, to the Willamette Valley. As in the popular computer game, calamities regularly arise that must be dealt with! Each turn, players overturn new trail tiles (for a different board with every play), draw a calamity, take 3 actions (including moving, hunting, buying supplies, picking up hitchhikers, or selling supplies), draw a new market price card, resolve the calamity card, and feed their families. You only have so much room in your wagon, so you must decide what's most important - food, medicine, winter clothing, weapons, or wagon parts. You will have to balance your supplies and your choices with your family's health and well-being as you strive to be the player with the most money at the end of the trip. 2-4 players.

NEW Lord of the Rings Games (ages 8+)

Based on the novels by J.R.R. Tolkien, these games give players the chance to experience places and characters from the books. Each game plays a little bit differently. In Battle for Middle-Earth, 2-4 players form groups of companions like Frodo, Pippin, Aragorn, Legolas and others and send them into battle against the armies of Mordor. The player that defeats the most enemies wins the game! Journey to Mordor is a dice-rolling game for 2-4 players (or hobbits). The hobbits must make decisions with each roll of the dice, competing to be the first to climb Mount Doom and destroy the ring! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

054799 Battle for Middle-Earth ..... 11.95

054771 Journey to Mordor ..... 9.95

Dragonwood™ / Dragonrealm™ (ages 8+)

Are you brave and bold? Then dare to enter the enchanted forest of Dragonwood. Build a handful of adventure cards to gain Enhancements or defeat with a Strike, Stomp or Scream, grumpy trolls, angry ogres, fiery ants, dragons and more. Just when you have your strategy figured out, the landscape of Dragonwood changes again. The player with the most victory points at the end of the game wins. This beautifully illustrated and designed fantasy game by Gamewright combines thought, strategy, and a bit of luck into a card and dice game the whole family will enjoy. For 2-4 players, playing time is about 20 minutes. Contains 108 cards, 6 custom dice, and rules. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

062857 Dragonwood ..... 11.95

074624 Dragonrealm ..... 18.50

In this sequel to Dragonwood, gameplay consists of rummy-style set collection and play. But instead of fighting creatures as they are drawn from the deck, players attempt to control monster-infested locations. 2-4 players, approximately 20 minutes.

NEW Tsuro (ages 8+)

In its simplest form, Tsuro is a curious “last man standing” version of Labyrinth, but the board is empty to begin. The 6x6 grid has a pair of paths leading off from every edge tile; players pick any one of the 48 starting paths and place their piece on it. To begin, each player draws 3 path tiles. Each tile features a twisting variety of paths - some curve to another edge of the tile, some go straight, and some cross between a pair of paths. All of the tiles match up perfectly to every other tile as well as the edge of the board. On your turn, place a tile of your choice at the end of your pawn’s path, and then move your pawn (and any opponents connected to that tile) to the very end of the newly-extended path. Beware: if your path now extends to the edge of the board, or forces you to run in to another pawn, you’re out! Since all of the paths will ultimately lead to the edge of the board as the tiles keep being played, it’s only a matter of time... at which point the last player left on the board wins! Easy to learn and suitable for (almost) all ages, Tsuro is an excellent “light strategy” game for friends and families alike. 2-8 players; ~15 minute play-time.

024718 Tsuro ..... 23.95

014078 Tsuro of the Seas ..... 32.00

Base gameplay remains the same, but now you captain a ship and large sea monsters are added to the board as the game progresses. They move randomly each turn, and if they happen to run into a ship, they’ll drag it down to the briny depths and that player will be out!

Castles of Mad King Ludwig Game (ages 12+)

King Ludwig II of Bavaria has commissioned you to build the biggest, most extravagant castle ever... per his ever-changing whims, of course. In this clever tile-laying game, each player acts as a building contractor, constructing a castle for the King. For each round, one player becomes the Master Builder. The other players then take turns buying room tiles and paying the Master Builder accordingly. After purchasing tiles, players add them on to their castle, earning points based on the size, type, and location of the room. Finished rooms earn special rewards. After several rounds, the game ends, and additional points are awarded for achieving other goals.

Whoever has the best castle wins! This incredibly thematic game is perfect for families & gamers alike. The concept is intuitive, the illustrations are fitting, and the overall design is beautiful; it actually feels like you are creating a one-of-a-kind castle! 2-4 players; 90 minutes.

Carcassonne (ages 7+)

Revisit the medieval city of Carcassonne, France in this land development game. Players attempt to strategically place a randomly drawn land tile in such a way as to fashion a city, road, cloister or field. Each player has 7 followers that can act as knight, thief, monk, or farmer, depending on their placement. Larger roads and cities score more points when completed, and multiple players can share in the scoring of a multi-tile completed project. This is definitely a thinking game and will take playing a few times to get the strategy down. Games take about 45 minutes. 2-5 players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

An ultra-simplified version for young children! Players place matching tiles on the board; tiles have one or more meeples in player colors. When a road is finished, a meeple is placed on each space; the strategy is to complete roads with more of their meeples on it than other players! 2-4 players, 10-20-minute game-time.

074000 Big Box Game 2017 ..... 71.99

017077 Carcassonne: Safari NEW! ..... 31.99

Carcassonne travels to the African savannah, bringing with it a few unique twists! This version plays like the base game with a few key differences. Instead of roads and cities, paths and bushes dot the wilderness, and cloisters are replaced by baobab trees. Completed paths and bushes score by the number of different animals on the feature, while baobab trees allow players to collect more animals. Additional features include watering holes, a park ranger, and two vehicle tokens for more ways to score points. Stand alone game.

Photosynthesis (ages 8+)

In this “science & fun” board game, grow a thriving forest of trees by strategically planting them around the hexagonal “forest-to-be.” To start, plant two small trees along the exterior edge. Each turn consists of two phases: Photosynthesis and Life Cycle. The first rotates the “sun” and generates “Light Points” for each tree in direct sunlight. But beware; as the sun travels around the board, every tree casts a shadow, preventing trees behind from earning points. Having trees in the middle is beneficial, but risky, as taller trees can sap light points from those closer to the center. The Life Cycle phase allows players to buy seeds, plant seeds next to their trees, and end the life cycle of large trees to collect Scoring Tokens. For 2-4 players. 30-60-minute gameplay.

Gnomes at Night (ages 6+)

Some rapsallion has made off with 12 of the Queen's treasures and, in their haste, dropped them throughout the castle labyrinth. Two gnomes are enlisted to help recover the treasure before morning – but there's a catch. The board stands upright with the two gnomes magnetically connected to each other on opposite sides; each side has different allowed paths and 6 of the 12 treasures. Players must work together, alternately moving their partner's gnome through obstacles and giving their partner directions as they recover one treasure at a time. Teams may also play, taking turns as they retrieve color-coded treasures. Quick and effective communication is the only way to ensure victory, as time is not on the gnomes' side! For 2-4 players. 15 minutes.

Laser Chess (ages 8+)

A laser blasts through the air and strikes a mirrored surface. Reflected at a 90° angle, it continues on, bouncing from one mirror to the next until coming to a dead stop on the non-mirrored surface of a playing piece. The triumphant strategist removes the "illuminated" piece from the board, while his opponent scrambles to ensure that the prize, his king, is safe, while endeavoring to adjust the mirrors in such a way as to "illuminate" your opponent's pieces (leaving fewer pieces he can move around to his advantage) and eventually strike his king. When you activate your laser, it can reflect off your pieces as well as your opponent's pieces, so all pieces in the laser's path need to be considered on your turn. The strategy requires a lot of careful planning, as you must activate your laser at the end of every turn whether you are ready to or not! The lasers for each player are located at opposite corners of the board. Game includes: 26 playing pieces, two laser pieces, game board and instructions. Batteries are included.

Keys to the Castle (ages 8+)

You stumble upon an ancient castle, blocking your progress. But 3 other knights had the same idea, and they need to get through too! Players compete to be the first knight to escape the castle by traversing its many locked rooms. Each player begins his or her turn by drawing cards. These cards are generally color-coded keys, but can also be a variety of helpful items. Players then play one of their cards, opening an adjacent door of their choice and moving – or locking a door behind them to slow down other players!

Other helpful devices allow players to hacksaw through barred doors, set up padlocks to further sabotage their opponents, and even find secret passages to speed their progress. The first player to the opposite side of the castle wins! For 2-4 players.

10-20-minute playtime.

077440 Ice Castle Ed... 19.50

Plays similarly to the original, but features new characters and a wand card that allows one player to move another player.

Labyrinth (ages 8+)

This game has seen plenty of use at our house over the years. A unique board features maze cards which are alternately fixed or movable. On each turn, a player slides a loose maze piece into a moveable row, which opens or closes passageways on the board. He can then move his marker to, or closer to, one of his treasure cards. The goal is to collect each of the treasures, in order, pictured on cards dealt him at the beginning of the game. It's not easy to plan, though, as each move changes the layout of the maze! A player must visualize how each of his 12 possible moves will most advantageously affect the maze. Games take only 20 minutes or so and are for 2-4 players. Another Parents' Choice Awards winner. Ocean Labyrinth plays the same but overhauls the board with a sea and ocean-life theme.

NEW Cat Rescue (ages 8+)
It's small, it's cute and it's a cooperative game! You and your fellow players are all working to take cats from the street into the shelter and give them a forever home. You also have two cats in your foster home. Each turn, you add a cat card to the square fabric grid board, and then "push" the whole row of cats one space on the grid board. If there are cat cards of the same color in the middle of the row you just pushed, these can be flipped over, signaling that they are ready for adoption. Now your goal is to push these flipped cards off the board and add them to their "forever home." If a face-up cat is pushed off the board on your turn, it joins your foster home, but the game is over if you acquire three foster cats! If you can avoid this, the game will end when you run out of "street" cat cards. For 1-5 players; game play is 15-20 minutes.

Forbidden... Games (ages 10+)

Band together with your fellow players and race around to accomplish your mission and escape before you succumb to the perils that await you! These innovative cooperative games consist of beautifully illustrated, double-sided tiles, Adventurer cards, pawns, and other cards and accessories. Players are randomly dealt Adventurer cards, each of which has a slightly different role and abilities. Players are able to take several actions on each turn; it's a race against time and danger to complete your goals and get your entire team to safety. Truly unique, these heart-racing, pulse-pounding games are slightly different every time you play! Highly recommended.

Castle Panic® (ages 8+)

Goblins, orcs, and trolls are attacking the castle, and it's up to you and your fellow generals to defend it! In the center of the board is a six-tower castle, bordered by six walls. Each wall faces a different 60-degree arc of the board, numbered 1-6 and colored either red, green, or blue. Surrounding the castle are four rings that determine distance from the castle: Swordsman, Knights, Archers, and the Forest, from which monsters and other unwanted baddies emerge. Each player is dealt 4 to 6 cards. Each turn, players can discard, trade, and play cards. These cards allow players to draw extra cards, rebuild walls, or attack the monsters advancing on the castle. At the end of each player's turn, two things happen: all monsters advance towards the castle, destroying walls or towers if they are close enough, and two extra monster tiles are drawn and placed on the board. And when a special tile is drawn, like the Goblin King, a boulder, or the dreaded "draw 4 more monster tiles," it's time to panic! The goal is to make it through the entire monster pile without losing all the towers. Once you feel confident enough to fend off the hordes of enemies, you can try upgrading the difficulty with variants—including one that lets a single player become the dungeon overlord and control the monsters. A decent bit of strategy and a whole lot of cooperation is key to ensuring your castle's survival! The game is quite difficult at times (hence the name!), but can be enjoyed by anyone 8 and up. A perfect family/friends game for 1-6 players. 60 minutes.

Pandemic® (ages 10+)

If you think cooperative games are just for kids, this brilliant game will change your mind! 2-4 players work together as members of a highly skilled task force as they try to cure four infectious diseases spreading throughout the different regions of the world. Each player may perform four actions per turn including treating a disease, traveling to another city, or passing a card to another player. Randomly chosen role cards assign occupations to each team member and provide different advantages to the basic actions. With outbreaks looming and epidemics increasing the rate of infection at unknown intervals, you'll need seamless teamwork and careful planning in order to discover the cures and save the world. Built-in features such as random shuffling, five different role cards, and a flexible amount of epidemic cards provide a different game every time and allow for easier to harder levels of play. A very cleverly designed game that will take all your wits – and may still beat you! Expansions require the Pandemic base game to play.

NEW Wilson and Shep (ages 6+)

Try to find the wolf in sheep's clothing with this game of strategy and teamwork. To start, put the correct number of tiles into the center of the table (one of them needs to be a wolf). Each player draws a tile, being careful not to reveal their identity. The person who draws the wolf plays as Wilson the wolf, and the other players are all Shep the sheep dog. All tiles go face down in the center. Everybody closes their eyes, and the wolf wakes up.

As others' eyes are closed, wolf swaps two tokens around. Everybody wakes up, and Shep can flip over 1 tile. Shep is trying to find the wolf. Repeat this process for 8 rounds. If the wolf is still undiscovered, he wins; but if Shep finds the wolf, Shep (all other players) win. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs. 055845 . . . . . 10.95

Exit the Game (ages 12+)

Doing escape rooms with your friends and family is a real treat. The puzzles in these games are just as complicated as the real thing and don't require an app or batteries. First, look around the "room" to find clues and riddle cards. The puzzles are an interesting mix of logic, leaps of logic, and activities. Word scrambles, dot-to-dots, magic eye pictures, word riddles, scraps of letters and numbers, and chemical tables, are some of the "pieces" of the brain teasers you may encounter. When you figure out a riddle, check your answer with the decoder disk. If you get stuck, consult the help cards for clues. Tally your score by how long it took and how many help cards you used. Each title is for one play only, since you will mark up, tear, fold, and cut the materials. Each scenario has a difficulty score from 1 – 5, easiest to hardest. Game times average 1-2 hours.

NEW The Key (ages 8+)

Investigators of all ages can pit their deductive skills against up to three other investigators in these multi-use mystery games. Each game includes four briefcase screens, dry erase investigation files, dry erase markers, wooden keys in different colors, and over one hundred cards with bits of either lab information or eyewitness statements. The group chooses one wooden key to start, and places it on the table with all of the cards. Players work independently, drawing cards that have a color block that matches the color of the wooden key, analyzing the evidence and making notes in their lab report. When one investigator has narrowed down their options to determine a perpetrator, a weapon, a place and other details, they will be left with a number code. Then it's time to grab the key, insert it into the solution board on the lock that matches the code, and see if they were right! After the case is closed, all players total the points on their cards used, and the player with the lowest number of points wins. ## Sherlock Express (ages 7+)

In this simple deduction game, players combine the given clues to figure out which character from a "suspect pool" is the culprit. Each round, 6 suspect cards are face up on the table. Cards feature a combination animal (tiger, koala, or panda), accessory (top hat, monocle, or moustache), and background (library, house, outside).

Players then turn up alibi cards one at a time with those features; for example, if a top hat and a tiger are turned up, the culprit cannot be a tiger or wear a top hat. As the suspect pool narrows, players race to identify the one suspect with no matching alibi! The first player to identify five suspects wins. For 2-6 players; 10 minutes.

Scotland Yard (ages 8+)

Sherlock Holmes would have loved it! Mr. X tries to elude capture on the streets of London as detectives (other players) pursue him via taxi, bus, and subway. The net tightens as Mr. X must reveal his position periodically throughout the chase. Ahh, but he has a few tricks up his sleeve and deftly slips through the "holes" by playing his special cards or catching a boat ride on the river Thames. Detectives must work together to thwart his escape and determine how best to trap the elusive Mr. X. Will they make brilliant deductions, or will the clever Mr. X outwit Scotland Yard's best? For 2 to 6 players, the game is more exciting with more detectives in pursuit. Junior version also available. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs

Holmes: Sherlock & Mycroft (ages 9+)

A bomb goes off in the Houses of Parliament, and a young man named Michael Chapman is arrested. Mycroft Holmes oversees the official investigation and must decide whether Chapman acted alone or as a member of an anarchist group, but he soon learns that someone has been hired to prove the young man's innocence – a detective who is none other than Mycroft's brother, Sherlock Holmes. In this two-player game of wit and investigation, act as one of the Holmes brothers and try to prove your case. Visit characters to either gain more magnifying glasses for your investigation or use the glasses in collecting more clues. Will you gather enough evidence to solve the case in your favor? Includes game board, 6 action markers (3 for Sherlock, 3 for Mycroft), 12 character cards, 52 clue cards, 24 magnifying glass investigation markers, 3 optional cards, and instruction booklet. The game takes about 30 minutes to play. Recommended for 2 players.

Cloaked Cats Game (ages 7+)

You have been invited to a masquerade ball! Each player has a cat with several identifiable characteristics. You try to guess the other players' combinations before they guess yours. ### Chicken War (ages 8+)

Assemble an army of fearsome fowl to defeat your opponents in this game that is not for the chicken-hearted! Each player starts with 10 chicken tiles, each featuring chickens with four important traits: weapons (frying pan, whisk, or spatula), eyewear, shirt color, and footwear. Each player secretly selects a leader from their tiles. The goal of the game is to draw and replace your army with chickens that "match" your leader – and by match, they share two, and only two, traits with the leader. If you make an egg-cellent guess identifying other players' leaders, those players are eliminated from the game. But don't just wing it. A bad guess will cost you one of your precious eggs, and you'll lose two members of your poultry platoon. Good cluck! 2-4 players, with a game time of approximately 30 minutes.

Potato Pirates: A Card

Game of Potato War (ages 7+)

Self-described as "a lethal combination of potatoes, programming, and piracy," this game can seem a little silly at first glance. Once you learn the basic rules (programming concepts disguised as attacks on enemy pirate potatoes), you're sure to get caught up in the fun! Players must lead a crew of 'taters to rescue seven Potato King cards from the deck, all while using action cards to Roast, Mash, and Fry their opponents. Gameplay gets interesting when you add control cards, which use loops and conditionals to make your attacks even more devastating. Be careful! With additional Surprise cards, opponents can interrupt your attacks and gain more ships and crew members. The game ends when a player has successfully rescued all Potato Kings or has eliminated the other salty sea spuds. For 3-6 players.

Mastermind® (ages 8+)

Can you create a code your opponent can't crack? In this classic two-player strategy game, the rules are simple; one player acts as code-maker and arranges four colored pegs behind a shield on his/her end of the board. Then it's up to the code-breaker to crack the code, guessing at the sequence of pegs the code-maker placed, and trying to duplicate it. After the code-breaker places a row of four pegs, the code-maker uses small white and red pegs to give the code-breaker feedback. A white peg means a peg of the right color, but the wrong position. A red peg means that one of the pegs is the correct color and in the right position. The code-breaker has no way to know which one of is right without some trial and error! Play continues until either all ten rows have been filled unsuccessfully or the code-breaker breaks the code. Then it's time to switch roles and play again. Simple to learn but challenging every time. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs

Can you arrange three pieces of the same color in a row to win? Adding to the challenge are large pieces that "kloak" or hide the small pieces underneath. On your turn, you may move any small piece to any open adjacent space, move one large piece to any adjacent space (covering a small piece if it lands on one), or slide a large piece still concealing a small piece to any adjacent space. You may also spend your turn "unkloaking" hidden pieces to reveal (hopefully!) three colored pieces in a row – but if you're wrong, you'll face a penalty! You'll need a good memory to win this "undercover strategy game"! 2-4 players.

Snorta! (ages 8+)

Whether you're playing Snorta with older kids, adults, or littles, this game is hilarious! To set up, each player receives a barn card with one of twelve possible animals in it. Then, a deck of animal cards is dealt. Starting with the dealer, each player makes the noise of the animal in their barn. The dealer begins the round and lays the first card on their stack face-up in their discard pile. The next player then discards a card, and so on. The fun begins when a player lays down an animal card that matches someone else's top card on their discard deck.

Both players with matching cards race to make the sound of the other animal's barn animal, not the sound of the animal card played. If you win the race to make the correct animal sound, you give your opponent your discard pile, and the winner is the first player who runs out of cards. 2-8 players.

Codenames (ages 14+) ▶

This competitive game pits two teams against each other in a race to uncover their secret spies. Each team votes one player to be the "spymaster." Twenty-five code name cards, each with one word, are laid out.

Each word belongs to one of the teams, or is an innocent bystander; one card is the assassin.

The two spymasters are the only ones who know which is which. The trick is for the spymasters to think of a one-word clue which relates to as many of their words as possible. The rest of your team works together to decide which card or cards you are trying to have them guess.

Whichever team finds all of their secret agents first wins. 200 double-sided code name cards and 40 different key cards mean this game can be played over and over again. Younger players can participate even if they aren't ideal "spymasters", and it works with varying group sizes (4-8+).

073114 Codenames Duet ..... 15.95

A cooperative 2-player/team version. Identify the agents without revealing any assassins, in nine turns or less, to win! Includes 200 cards (for 400 new words total); compatible with the original game.

Hues and Cues (ages 8+) ▶

Sure you know your colors, but how well can you describe (or guess) a certain shade? This simple game challenges players to do just that! With 480 hues to pick from, will you be able to identify "dandelion," "seaweed," or "raspberry sorbet"? The player describing the hue draws a card with 4 color swatches on it, along with the grid location for those colors on the board. They give a one-word clue about the hue of their choice, and everyone else places a pawn on a colored space. Then the describing player has the chance to give a two-word clue and other players place their second pawns. Points are awarded based on how close players get to the actual color. 3-10 players, game time is approximately 30 minutes.

Telestrations (ages 12+) ▶

In this clever take on the telephone game, each player starts off with a dry-erase sketchbook, dry-erase marker, and a card with 12 words or phrases on it. Each player writes their word/phrase on the first page, turns the page, and has 60 seconds to sketch it. Then players pass the sketchbook to the player on the left who guesses what the sketch is, then passes it on to the next player who sketches the guess, and so it goes. Once your notebook completes the circle and comes back to you, it is hilarious to see the course the words have taken. From "Blood Bank" to "Duck Worship," you are guaranteed a lot of laughter. The regular game: up to 8 players with 142 cards; the Party Pack: up to 12 players with 192 cards.

Decrypto (ages 12+) ▶

In this verbal volley of code cracking, each team sits opposite its four privy "code words," ordered 1-4. To begin a round, the Encrypter draws a card with a 3-number sequence, such as "4-1-2." If White Team has the words

"Bottle," "Camera," "Egg," and "Tape," the White Encrypter may give the following clues: "Sticky," "Glass," and "Picture." Other team members then guess the intended sequence. If correct, no penalty; but if wrong, the team gets a miscommunication token. Two tokens and you lose! Meanwhile, Black Team makes a note of White Team's clues and sequence. In future rounds, each team gets the first chance to "intercept" the other team's sequence! Intercept two messages and you win! Encrypters must make their clues obvious enough for their own team to guess, but vague enough to prevent the opposing team from intercepting the sequence! 3-8 players; 15-45-minute playtime.

Sloth in a Hurry (ages 4+)

What would a "Robot Having Hiccups" look like? What about an "Octopus Making a Sandwich?" Well, you better figure it out fast, because you might have to act it out! In this rollicking game of improv, kids draw "Who" and "What" cards, then spin a spinner to add a special "How" to the act. So you might start with a "Penguin Roller Skating", but then have to do it "In Slow Motion," "Pestered by a Mosquito," or even "With Nonsense Language!" The focus of the game is action, fun, and confidence-building, so it's perfect for young actors without the added competition of doing better than their fellow players! For 2-4 players. 015447 ..... 21.99

Sushi Go! (ages 8+)

Compete to collect the best sushi dinner in this fast-paced card game. Players choose their favorite sushi dish from their hand, place it in front of them, and then pass the rest of the hand to the next player. Once all the cards are chosen, the round is over, and the sushi is scored. Score the most points by dipping your nigiri in wasabi, collecting three sashimi, piling on the dump-lings, or having the most maki rolls, and don't forget to save some pudding for dessert! With a wide variety of different sushi cards to choose from, there is lots of replayability here. The player with the most points after three rounds wins. 2-5 players. 070737 Sushi Go! ..... 10.50

In the mood to roll your own sushi? Instead of selecting a sushi item of choice, players roll a set of dice and choose one before passing the rest. Adding a little wasabi to the mix are "chopstick" and "menu" results, which allow players to steal or re-roll dice. 2-5 players.

Bananagrams (ages 6+)

In this Scrabble-like game, play is continual for all players. Turn over your tiles and start making connecting and intersecting words. All letters are the same point value, and you can rearrange your words at any time.

When any player has played all his letters, he takes a new tile from the Bunch. The first player to play all his tiles is the winner of that round. Rounds typically take 5-10 minutes, so games can consist of as many rounds as you want. Up to 8 players. Various versions have slightly different rules and number of players.

Mad Libs®: The Game (ages 10+)

Mad Libs have been riotous fun for kids for many years, and now you can have that same learning fun with Mad Libs®: The Game. The game includes 42 sentence cards and 200 word cards. The game plays out simply – deal 7 word cards to each player, flip over one sentence card, and then each player chooses enough cards from their hand to fill the blanks in the sentence. Each player reads their sentence aloud, and then everyone votes on their favorite. Have some hilarious, sentence-building fun with Mad Libs: The Game! 3-8 players. 017260 ..... 15.95

Wing It: Game of Extreme Storytelling (ages 12+)

Picture this: you are being chased by a pack of rare carnivorous rabbits in a nature preserve in central Missouri. Hunting season is over, and the rabbits are a protected species. The nearest ranger station is a mile away. You only have 5 things with you: a ten-gallon drum of maple syrup, a magical flying dishtowel, a particle accelerator, a circus of trained mice, and one concerned parent. Which 3 will you use to engineer your escape?

Each round the Judge draws 1 Situation card while players think about how to use exactly 3 of their Resource cards to solve the scenario. When everyone is ready, players begin telling their story in the most creative way possible. When everyone is finished, the Judge declares 1 story the best, and the storyteller takes the card! The first player to win 3 rounds wins. 4-7 players. 074077 Wing It ..... 23.25
052080 Expansion ..... 16.95

#UpsideDown Challenge (ages 8+)

Writing a three-letter word, pouring water into a glass, or drawing a car are all pretty simple tasks - but what happens when your vision is flipped? Suddenly, all these tasks get a lot harder (and a lot more entertaining). That's the premise in this silly game that's equally amusing to play with both kids and adults. The active player reads a challenge card and then, donning the upside-down goggles, tries their best to complete it gracefully. Players then take turns competing to outclass each other, and then a group vote determines who was the best at a given challenge, and that person receives points. Whoever racks up the most points at the end of the game wins! For 2-6 players.

T-Rex Rumble (ages 7+)

If you've ever wondered if everyday tasks would be easier if you had tiny T-Rex arms, here is your chance to find out! Gather together, split into two teams, and let the challenges begin! Game includes

T-Rex arms, foam objects, ball, dry-erase pen marker and board, 50 challenge cards with 400 total challenges, timer, and die. The plastic T-Rex arms feature easy grabber claws.

Challenges fall into 4 categories: picking up and stacking the included foam objects, charades, drawing, or a rumble challenge against the other team. With each challenge you must use the T-Rex arms and race to beat the timer, or your opponent, to win the card. 4+ players.

Twangled (ages 6+)

This is definitely "knot" a sit-down game! Players stand in a circle and hold on to different colored bands. Each player will hold the end of a different colored band in each hand. A kick spinner is placed on the floor in the middle of the circle. Players take turn kicking the spinner, which instructs them to go over or under the band of a certain color. Play goes around the circle twice, then the group is challenged to get "unTwangled" without letting go of the bands! As a team-building game, successfully recreating the initial circle makes you all winners!

Fastrack™ (ages 5+)

Ready, set, score! You must have fast fingers, speed, and good aim to slingshot the wooden disks through the center hole into your opponent's court. Both players face off with several disks on their side of the partitioned wooden board. Get all of the disks onto your opponent's side to win - but watch out, they're constantly trying to send 'em right back! Play is fast and furious and the best of three rounds is the winner! Reminiscent of the classic Crossfire game, but more action-packed, this game will put your manual dexterity, coordination, and aim to the test. How about a friendly family Fastrack tournament?

Klask Game (ages 8+)

The Klask Game is a bit like a miniature version of air hockey. Each player tries to score by hitting the ball into their opponent's goal with a magnetic striker they control from under the table. Unlike air hockey, the goal is on top of the board, making it quite easy to fall into your own goal while playing. Three magnets placed in the center of the table add another obstacle. The little magnets are quickly knocked around the table by the ball as the round starts. If you get too close, they'll stick! Get tagged by two magnets, and the opponent will also score a point. Swift movements are an advantage, but playing too fast and loose can be your downfall. If you aren't careful, your opponent can win this game by defense alone! A one-on-one, rapid-fire battle perfect for whipping out at a gathering! Each game lasts about 10 minutes.

Rubik's® Race (ages 7+)

Another twist on the classic Rubik's® Cube, this two-player game is played on a flat playing surface with sliding color tiles. Nine mini cubes are contained in a scrambler. Shake the scrambler and then race your opponent to duplicate the pattern by sliding your tiles – be the first and you win! You'll need to assemble the game before use, but from there it's a colorful race to the finish. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

RACK-O® (ages 8+)

The Rack-O deck is made up of cards numbering 1-60. Each player is dealt 10 cards to place in a rack with slots numbering 5-50 (counting by fives). As cards are dealt players place them in their racks, starting with the 50 slot down to the number 5 slot. The remainder of the deck is then placed face down in the middle to be used as the draw deck. In turn, players draw from the top of the deck or discard pile and replace any card in their rack, with the object of the game to be the first to organize your cards from the lowest number to the highest. Numbers need not be in consecutive order, but each card must be lower than the one that follows. Includes 4 plastic racks and 60 cards. 2-4 players.

Guess Who?® (ages 6+)

A reproduction of the classic 2-player game, this game holds 24 familiar mystery faces (each with a name and a bit of personality). Players each choose a face and try to guess their opponent's face before he guesses theirs. But you don't randomly start shouting names! Each player has a plastic game board that holds all 24 faces. Players take turns asking yes/no questions of their opponent, eliminating faces as they go. Does the person have blue eyes; dark hair, bald, glasses, etc? Deductive reasoning disguised as fun!

Five Crowns® (ages 8+)

Another fantastic game by Set Enterprises! Adding a fifth suit to cards, the star, brings a new dimension to playing cards. 11 hands make up the game. Similar to rummy, you may lay down sets of three, called books, or runs of three or more cards. There's a twist to the game, though; in the first round, you get three cards, in the next round four, etc., all the way to the 11th round, in which you would get 13 cards. When a player plays his last cards, each other player has one more turn to play.

If you like double solitaire, you'll love Dutch Blitz! Each player has a set of 40 cards, numbered 1-10 and in four colors.

Players lay out 3 base piles, and stack 10 cards in their "wood" pile. Everyone plays at once in this fast-paced card game, moving cards to the communal colored piles in the center, as they compete to be the first to use all of the cards in their "wood" pile. The first player to eliminate their woodpile and yell "Dutch Blitz!" wins the game. Easy to learn, fun to play, and contagious, this has been one of our favorite games to play at home and on the go. 2-4 players. Practice mental math and get to know some mythology while playing this strategic card game. Each player is dealt four cards that will have either a number or a Greek god on them. Players take turns playing a card on "Mount Olympus" and add it to the previous total number. If a number is played by another player that matches a number in your hand, you can do a "same number sneak" playing that card and skip other players that would have been next. Greek god cards have powers such as playing Aphrodite and rounding the total to the nearest multiple of 0 or Ares sending the Mount Olympus total to 50. Throughout the game, take control of Zeus by getting to a total of a multiple of 10 (10, 20, 30), playing a Greek God that says to steal Zeus, or doing a same number sneak. Get to 100 points while holding on to Zeus and win that round, earning a letter of Zeus. Win 4 rounds to spell out Z-E-U-S to win the game.

SET® (ages 6+)

Fast-paced, challenging, AND lots of fun! Because it's based on quick thinking and observational skills, young kids with sharp eyes can play very competitively with older siblings and parents! The game is simple; twelve cards are laid down between the players, and they race to see which three cards form a "set." Cards feature different shapes and symbols in different colors and shading patterns, and a set includes three cards that share some characteristic. There are no turns, and no waiting - the first player who can make a set wins a point.

The Fox in the Forest (ages 10+)

Inspired by classic fairy tales, this whimsical trick-taking card game pits two players against each other. But like any good fairy tale, greed only leads to losing! The deck consists of 3 “suits” numbered 1-11. Each round, players are dealt 13 cards from a deck of 33, with the next card’s suit serving as “trump” for the round. Players take turns playing a card from their hand, with the larger number winning. Adding spice to this simple concept are special character abilities that allow players to lead after losing, to force the other player to play their lowest card in a suit, or even to change the trump suit. The first player to reach 21 points wins. For 2 players; 30 minutes.

Trash Pandas (ages 8+)

You are a raccoon digging in the trash for treasure. Each turn you roll a die to earn actions, and after each action earned you must decide to roll for more actions or play it safe and use the ones you’ve already earned. But be careful! If you roll one of the actions a second time, you BUST and forfeit all your actions that turn. Actions include drawing from the trash pile, stashing your treasure, or stealing from another player. The player with the best stash wins! For 2-4 players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Spot it!™

You’ll have to sit on the edge of your seat with your eyes peeled if you want to win Spot It! The goal is to find a match between two cards. Each of the 55 circular cards contains exactly one picture that will match any other card. The challenge? To “spot it” first! The matching objects will be the same shape and color; but the size may be different. Age differences between players are irrelevant – the sharpest eyes will win the game! 2-8 players, approximately 15 minutes.

Cover Your Assets (ages 8+)

The goal is simple: build up a $1,000,000 stack of matching asset cards worth a certain amount of money, including homes, classic cars, stamp collections, and more. But watch out - the more you accrue, the more likely it is a player will steal your hard-earned valuables! Each turn, players attempt to make a matching asset stack from their own hand or - here’s where the fun begins - an opponent’s stack! The game ends when at least one player reaches $1,000,000 in assets. For 4-6 players. 30-minute playtime.

Check the Oven (ages 7+)

You’ll be drooling over the delectable treats pictured on each card, including rolls, gingerbread cookies, chocolate chip cookies, cupcakes, heart cookies, and the infamous dropped pies. Players each hold five cards (each showing a different number of treats) in their hand, looking to make sets of 12 of a kind, and avoid the dropped pies! On a player’s turn, they will ask for a certain type of treat. Other players lay down all of the cards in their hand of that kind (if they have them); and if they don’t, they offer a bluff. The starting player chooses a pile and collects the cards. A good poker face is required as you try to off your dropped pie cards or not reveal your disappointment at being duped by another player! 3-6 players.

NEW Pancake Monster Game (ages 3+)
Chomp, Chomp, Chomp! Delightfully hilarious, this game offers two levels of play. The first level begins simply: Feed the pancake monster with one of your pancake cards, then push the button in the center of his mouth the number of times as toppings on your pancake. Watch out! When he has had enough, he pops up two feet to chomp your hand! The second level builds on these skills, but involves three pieces of your laundry as an added challenge. Pancake toppings number 1-3 making this an easy game for the youngest ones in your family. Set up and instructions are clearly illustrated and easy to follow. A perfect addition to family game night, or perhaps right after a hearty breakfast! 2-4 players.

Play with toddlers is essential, but how many parents have the time to think of useful activities? Any kiddo who can recognize numbers or count from 1 to 3, will love following the pictorial recipe cards in this Acorn Soup game to make their own special soup. Use the spoon to add each playing piece (acorn, berries, clover, and more) to the storage box—I mean soup pot—and stir, stir, stir. When that soup is cooked, make another until three soups are made. Includes 8 recipe cards, 24 wooden ingredients, and 1 wooden spoon. With multiple play options, this game develops creative thinking, fine and gross motor skills, counting skills, number recognition, and matching/sorting skills.

NEW Silly Faces (ages 3+)

A Colorforms® sticker game, Silly Faces is a speed game to see which player can construct the fastest and silliest face. Each player takes a turn spinning the wheel to see which face shape they start with; then each player uses the stickers, racing to complete an entire face. The characters featured in this game are the same characters from the "Charlie Colorforms® City" series. Game includes 68 reusable stickers, 6 game face cards, a game board with spinner, and instructions. 2 – 6 players.

Ready, Set, Draw! (ages 3+)

No artistic ability whatsoever? No worries! Everyone stands an equal chance in this non-competitive game! A deck of cards holds the items for you to draw (i.e. "tree," "flower") another tells you how you must complete your drawing. You may have to draw with your eyes closed, or draw the item upside down; the combinations and possibilities are unlimited! Even the best artist in your group might have the most hilarious and unrecognizable drawing! Inspired by Herve Tullet's bold colors and minimalist shapes and lines. 2- 6 players.

NEW Grabbit (ages 4+)

Four sweet rabbits are each trying to find four different types of root vegetables in a garden: carrots, onions, radishes and potatoes. As they jump around the garden, they peek under the leaves to see which vegetable is planted underneath and try to collect one of each type of vegetable. Can they remember what is planted where? And can they keep their veggies safe from burrowing animals? A fun memory and light strategy game for young players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Race to the Treasure! (ages 5+)

Work together to get the treasure before the ogre takes it all! The board is a large grid, with letters along the top, and numbers down the side. Players begin by rolling the number and letter dice to place the three keys and the lunchbox on the board. Each turn players draw from the tile stack, made up of path and ogre tiles. Path tiles consist of straight, "T," or curved pieces and each piece connects and winds around the grid to pick up the three keys before going to claim the treasure. When an ogre tile is drawn, it is placed in the ogre's column, bringing him one square closer to the treasure. If you beat the ogre to the treasure, you win! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Outfoxed! (ages 5+)

It's a collaborative crime-solving game for some of your youngest gamers! The crime? A missing pot pie. The suspects? Sixteen nearly identical-looking foxes, thankfully each wearing different accessories. On each player's turn, they decide whether to travel around the board and search for clues or accuse a fox. A special "evidence scanner" reveals clues about what the suspect is wearing, helping players hone in on the guilty fox. As players rule out suspects, the fox figurine is also gradually making his way to the end of the gameboard, so you need to figure it out quickly! A fun cooperative game that challenges observation and deduction skills. 2-4 players.

Secret Door (ages 5-7)

Inside a large mansion, 1-8 players must team up to find the stolen valuables and stop the thieves before midnight, when they plan to get away! Players discuss ideas and strategies to try and figure out what is behind the Secret Door. Every game is different, exciting, tricky – AND a race to beat the clock! Not just fun for the whole family, this game exercises memory and critical thinking skills as well!

Winner of a Parent's Choice Award.

NEW Chicken Chicken (ages 6+)

This "Egg-cellent" memory game is simple; once you've seen five egg cards overturned, be the first to slap the deck and get a point. However, other cards in play may mess up your count! Hens sit on eggs and those eggs are out of play, but if a fox comes along, the hen runs away and the egg is back in play. Will you be able to keep track of the eggs with all the hens and foxes running around? Slap the deck too soon and the yolk's on you! Extra bonus cards allow for other play variations and add even more fun and confusion. First player to get 3 points wins. 2-8 players, with a playing time of approximately 20 minutes.

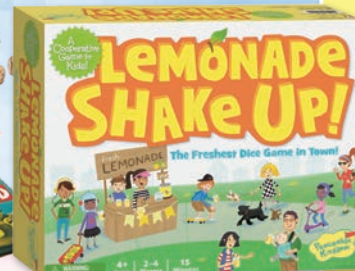

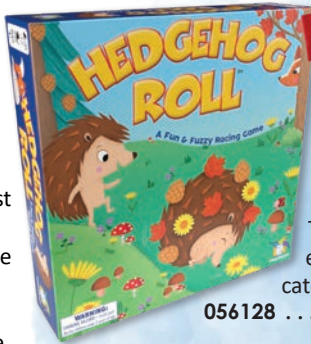

056123 ..... 9.50

NEW Hedgehog Roll (ages 4+)

In this cooperative or competitive game, players take turns rolling a small fuzzy hedgehog ball (like a small brown tennis ball). Sticky-backed forest goodies (acorns, flowers, and leaves) are scattered across the play surface next to the game-board. Any items that the hedgehog picks up allow players to move their hedgehog pawn along the path of matching items. The first player to the hedgehog house wins (or, in the cooperative game, if you reach the hedgehog house before the fox catches you)! 1-4 players; approximately 20 minutes.

NEW Lemonade Shake Up! (ages 4+)

A fun, team effort game requiring all players to work together and earn money by selling lemonade, without the mess of a real lemonade stand. There are three different types of lemonade that can be made, each requiring specific ingredients. To play, lay out all 12 customer cards. Each player takes a turn rolling the five die to determine which ingredients they have to work with. If the ingredient list is insufficient, roll the unneeded dice again for a second attempt. If there are still missing ingredients, one of the customer cards gets covered by a sour lemon. A sour lemon can be reversed by rolling for 3 sugars on a different turn instead of rolling for a drink. When a drink is successfully made, flip over a customer card for that drink to reveal how many quarters they paid. To win the game, fill the quarter jar before 4 customers receive a sour lemon. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

NEW Paco's Party Game (ages 5+)

Imagine Paco's birthday was yesterday and you're going through the party pictures. Paco, Hippo, Leo, and Coco were all present. Many of the cards have just one person missing from the picture. To start the game, each player starts with a hand of face-down cards. One player flips over the top card from their pile, and places it in the middle. As a card is flipped over, the first person to call out who was missing from the party gets to play the next card. If a card is played that has all four from the party present, call out "Paco's party!" and start dancing.

The last person to start dancing places the whole discard pile into their own hand. The first person to empty their entire hand first wins!

Tiny Polka Dot (ages 3+)

How do you create 16 simple math games with 66 cards? Using tiny polka dots, of course! This unassuming deck comes in 6 "suits" of different colors representing numbers 0-10. Each suit represents these numbers differently: characters, 10-frames, domino rows, different-sized polka dots, etc. Each game reinforces a different numerical concept (counting, matching, correspondence, comparative operations, etc.) And of course, the cards provide an excellent base for creating your own math (and even logic) games! 1-6 players.

Möbi Math Games

This fast paced math game is like Bananagrams for basic operations. Tiles are dealt to players who must create crossword-style grids of math problems until they are the first to run out of tiles. The standard game has 162 tiles in a cute, whale-shaped zipper pouch with operations including addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division and is recommended for play with up to 6 players. Möbi Kids is a very similar setup with 86 colorful tiles and operations limited to only addition and subtraction. In addition to the game pieces, there is a little pamphlet with extra activities to help teach your child basic math concepts using the Möbi tiles. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs

NEW Clumsy Thief

It's a free-for-all out there! Players are all racing at the same time to play and claim stacks and end up with the most money (in the original game), or food (in the junior game). Each game begins with players holding 7 cards from the deck. If they have sets of 100 (or 10 in the junior version), they lay them in a stack on the table in front of them. Then players all try to claim stacks by pairing a card from their hand to the top card in a stack to make 100 (or 10) and swipe the pile. Thief cards can claim any pile, but a thief can steal from another thief! Jail or trap cards win a stack for good. Each round ends when players cannot make any more plays and their hands are replenished until the deck is gone. 3-6 players in the original game, and 2-4 players in the junior version.

NEW Weight for It (ages 8+)

What an innovative game! A freely-rotating spinner, bounded by the numbers 1-12 sits between 4 colored arrows. Each turn, players draw a number and arrow color, dictating which arrow should point to which number by the end of their turn. They then either add a single weight (small, medium, or large) or remove a weight from the spinner, sending it spinning until it reaches equilibrium. If the arrow points to the number when it settles out, they get the card! The first person to collect 3 cards wins. Simple, intuitive, and fun to play over and over. 2-4 players; 5-10 minutes.

Prime Climb (ages 8+)

A teaching tool and a genuinely enjoyable math game in one! The board consists of color-coded spaces from 1-101. Players try to reach 101 exactly with both pawns by adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing. Each turn, the active player rolls two 10-sided dice, then uses each rolled number (one at a time) to perform an operation on the space their pawn is currently on.

For example, if a player has 1 pawn on "14" and rolls a 7 and an 9, the player has 6 immediate options: subtract to 7 ( $14 - 7 = 7$ ) or 5, add to 21 or 23, multiply to 98, or divide to 2. The color coding provides a handy shortcut for those learning or reinforcing multiplication & division. Adding a final twist are "Action" and "Keeper" cards which allow players to take beneficial actions or harm their opponent. The suggested age is 10+, or 8+ with adult help, but the only requirement to play is basic math skills. 2-4 players; 45-minutes.

NEW Outnumbered: Improbable Heroes (ages 8+)

An excellent "addition" to your collection of educational games! In this superhero-inspired numerical showdown, players use the power of math to defeat waves of villains attacking the city. Each turn, players roll three dice and use any combination of arithmetic operators to manipulate the value. But that's not all; each player gets a superhero with a special power for more flexibility. Characters like "Mi-nus" can subtract 1 or 2 from a value, "Digitizer" can flip a die to its opposite value, and "Multi-pull" can double a value. If a value can be made that matches the value of a villain, the opponent is defeated and removed from the board. This game offers a healthy mix of open-ended math, suitably menacing cartoon villains, cheesy heroes, and delightfully comic-booky illustrations. 1-6 players; 20-30 minutes.

Shut The Box (ages 8+)

Though this game's origin is unknown, variations of it are played worldwide. The wooden board with felt-covered surface contains 4 sides of number tiles. At starting, all 1 through 10 tiles are flipped up. The goal is to flip all the number tiles down. To do this, a player must roll two dice. Then total the die to flip down a single matching number tile, or divide the die and flip down two separate number tiles. Keep playing until no more tiles can be flipped. Add the total of the remaining tiles; that is your score. The lowest score wins. Comes with 4 pairs of dice. 8.5" x 8.5" x 1.75". 1-4 players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Rory's Story Cubes® (ages 6+)

I'm not sure what's more likeable here - the simple concept or the cute dice! The small, portable game consists of nine dice with simple black-and-white pictures on each face for a total of 54 different images. A few examples include: a clock, a bee, a shooting star, a light bulb, etc. Originally designed for storytelling, there are three game ideas, each of which entails rolling the dice and using some or all of them to create a story. You can modify the number of dice, play solo or as a group for more variety. Expansions are available and can be used with the original game or stand alone. I'm sure you can come up with some of your own educational and party ideas as well! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

NEW Possum Dice Game (ages 8+)

Simple components, straightforward rules, and varied play strategies make for perhaps the most fun you'll ever have with parts of speech—and most certainly with a possum. Each player rolls the dice (up to 3 times) to make a word that will fill in a scorecard category of nouns, verbs, adjectives or others (i.e. 3-letter noun; 6-letter any). Get Possum points when you make up a pretend word, name its part of speech, define it and use it in a sentence (and everyone must agree). Includes six 6-sided dice and 100 scorecard sheets. ## NEW Words Over Easy (ages 8+)

No one wants a rotten egg! Eggs all hold four different letters; toss all six dice into the egg-sorter which scrambles 'em up and tosses 'em out into two different trays. Players all have one minute to write down as many words as they can think of that include all of the letters face-up in the green (good eggs) tray, but none of the letters in the red (rotten eggs) tray. Points are awarded for original words! Category cards are included if you wish to add an egg-s-tra difficulty level. 2-4 players.

Animal Trivia Challenge (ages 7+)

Put that knowledge of animals to the test in a battle of wits with your friends and family. Players work their way around the board answering questions and collecting survival tokens for correct answers. Each card has a beginner and an advanced question on it, so an 8-year old can play against a 14-year old. There are 3 types of cards: "Know It" are multiple choice, "Name It" requires a player to identify an animal from a photo, and "Rank It" cards have you put animals in order given a certain trait (e.g.: Rank these birds from the largest to smallest egg – ostrich, duck, hummingbird.) 2-4 players. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). ## Nature Matching and Memory Games (ages 7+)

Beautifully illustrated, these nature card games of memory and matching sharpen your mind and are a visual joy to play. The basic concept is to collect pairs by matching an item to its counterpart – a leaf to its tree, a flower to its uses, a track to its animal, the underside of a butterfly wing to the upper side, or a male bird to its female. A great gift for any nature lover, these games are as much fun as they are educational.

NEW Ecologies Card Game (ages 9+)

It's a dog-eat-dog world in Ecologies – well, actually, it's a dog-eat-rat world, ecologically speaking! The goal of this delightfully educational game is to create sustainable balanced ecosystems across environments such as Desert, Grassland, and Ocean. Illustrated cards serve as these Biomes, as well as the Plants and Animals within them. For instance, a healthy temperate forest ecology contains blackberries (producing plant), bees (to feed on the blackberries), frogs (to eat the bees), hawks

(to eat the frogs), and earthworms (to decompose everything). Once a biome is complete, it offers bonuses ranging from points, to extra cards, to sabotaging another player's ecosystem. The trick is that players can only play cards "up" the food chain, and players are limited to a small handful of cards, often leaving half-finished ecosystems worth very few points. To alleviate this danger, players are encouraged to make trades with their competitors. Adding another element of unpredictability are powerful Biotic and Abiotic Factor cards, providing bonuses to oneself or inflicting setbacks upon opponents. With gorgeous John James Audubon-style artwork, open gameplay, and vocabulary and animal diet information galore, this game is equally at home as a science supplement or a family game. 1-6 players; 30-60 minutes.

Players compete to create the most balanced and diverse ecosystem in this beautifully illustrated card drafting game. Each player chooses a card from their hand to add to their ecosystem, such as a dragonfly to enjoy their streams or a wolf to add to the pack. Then players pass their hands and each chooses another card from their new hand. Points are scored by placing animals in their ideal environments, creating streams and meadows, and achieving diversity within the ecosystem. Includes 130 cards, 6 player aids, scorepad, and instructions. 15-20 min playing time. For 2-6 players.

Fluxx Games (ages 8+)

This is a truly chaotic game for the whole family! The entire deck is shuffled and players are dealt 3 cards each. The game begins with only a couple of basic rules, but new rules can be played and goals changed. There are four types of cards in Fluxx: Keepers, Goals, Actions, and New Rules. During each turn, players draw and play as many cards as dictated by the current rules, striving to complete the current goal. But as you may have guessed, this is easier said than done; rules and goals are constantly in flux, requiring luck and timing to achieve victory! 2-6 players; 5-30 minutes.

Periodic: A Game of the Elements (ages 10+)

You can feel the chemistry with this game! Explore and research the periodic table as you compete with other players to research elements and complete goals. The board is a large, colorful periodic table; players move by spending or gaining energy to activate periodic trends, each of which allows you to move in a different manner. Whatever element you land on can be "researched," helping you complete the shared goal cards. Collect goal cards, lab tokens, and more to accumulate points; player with the most points wins! This game is well-constructed and as cute as a periodic table game could possibly be with tiny microscope and flask pieces for each player. 2-5 players, game time 40-60 minutes.

NEW Genotype (ages 14+)

Players take various actions to grow pea plants in their monastery garden plots to confirm up to four possible traits: height, pod color, flower color, and seed shape. "Mendelian Genetics" specifically refers to the dominant/recessive traits inherited by offspring, often short-handed to a 2 x 2 matrix. Traits can be homozygous dominant (RR), heterozygous dominant (Rr), or homozygous recessive (rr). As players draft dice representing these genetic combinations for each trait, they check off the matching trait from their plant, allowing it to be harvested for points once all traits are confirmed. "Rr" is the most common combination, so those are worth less points, and the rarer "RR" and "rr" combos are in high demand! While the game has a lot of options and involves a fair amount of strategy, it only takes a short time to understand. We highly recommend this as a standalone game and a science supplement! 1-5 players; 45-90 minutes.

Top Trumps (ages 4+)

This card game brings "war" into the 21st century while featuring beautiful pictures, and amazing facts and statistics on each card. Simply deal out the deck of 30 cards to players, choose the best stat on your top card and try to beat your opponent's card. Win the deck by being the first person to win all 30 cards. Facts on the cards include things such as height, weight, speed, and more. An American Alligator weighs 500kg, a Polar Bear weighs 800kg – who takes the card? ## Virulence: An Infectious Card Game (ages 8+)

Enjoy learning about viruses with this fun, educational card game! Players compete to be the best invading virus. Each round, players secretly choose their level of potency from their virulence cards and then reveal their cards simultaneously. The player with the highest virulence gets to be first to pick from the available virus component cards, and the player who picks last may be stuck with a vaccine! Players earn points by building icosahedral and helical sets, collecting genome cards, and having the most spherical envelope cards.

The player with the most points wins! Play time is approximately 15-20 minutes. For 2-5 players.

Professor Noggin's (ages 7+)

It's easy to turn any family game night into a trivia competition with these educational card games. But, wait, you say—won't Mom and Dad always win? I mean, they know everything! Well, not necessarily. Each game features trivia questions at two levels; an easy level for young children or people with virtually no knowledge of the topic, and a hard level for adults or older kids that might know a little more. Games consist of 30 sturdy, illustrated question cards, a three-numbered dice, and instructions.

Each card contains six different questions—three at each level. The reader will ask the first player the question indicated on the die (from either the easy or the hard group), and if the player answers correctly, they get to keep it. Play passes to the next player. With a huge number of game topics, there's a trivia game for just about any interest—and plenty that the whole family can enjoy together.

Historical Conquest (ages 8+)

The premise of Historical Conquest is simple: take over all of your opponent's land, or increase the morale of your civilization. Each player begins with six country cards, one from each colonized continent. All other cards are placed in a face-down deck. Players then pull one land card (as their starting country) and five cards from their deck to form their hand. These cards may be armies (used to defend land); leaders (who can defend or attack lands); explorers (who find new lands); artists, athletes, authors, and musicians (who improve your culture); and events such as the Black Plague or Great Depression (used to attack your opponent's culture). Every card includes background information on the event or person, and an ability related to what they did in real life (such as Genghis Khan, who can take over any country on the same continent as his army). Starter packs represent different periods of world history and contain 50 cards including six countries, six explorers, armies, people, and events. These include everything you need to get started. Expansions are based on different eras or events and include 20 cards. Play mats are not required, but they do help keep game play organized. Check our website for availability.

Race Across the USA (ages 8+)

Zip around the country, collecting your states, and be the first to return home to win! To start, each player receives 6 state cards, in 6 different geographic locations. Take turns rolling the die and moving your airplane token across the board to land on the states you received. When you get there, you must correctly answer a geography question to "win" that state. Once you have collected all of your states, race back home. The game contains 220 double-sided question cards, with 220 questions at the 3-4th grade level and 220 questions at the 5th+ grade level. Players will learn all about state geography, facts, capitals and more while having fun! 2-4 players.

Guess That President/National Park (ages 8+)

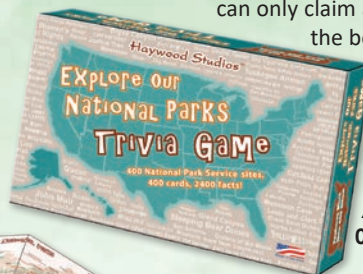

Did you know that Herbert Hoover worked as a mining engineer? Or that Andrew Jackson was the first president born in a log cabin? Did you know that Grand Canyon National Park was preserved by Teddy Roosevelt? Learn these and many other interesting facts about the presidents or national parks as you play these educational games. Each player takes a turn guessing after a random fact is read (some facts are more obvious than others). When a player guesses the correct answer, he keeps the card. Perfect car activities for a road trip out west, or use them as flashcards on your own.

NEW Explore our National Parks Trivia Game (ages 12+)

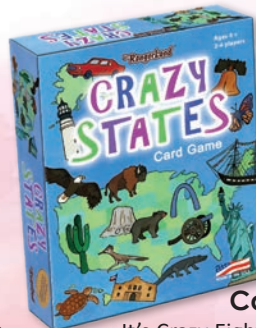

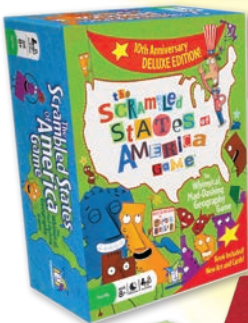

Get to know 400 historic sites, monuments, and parks throughout the 50 states. Each 2"x5" card shares 6 facts, plus a general location and name. A player picks a card, then rolls the die to choose which clue to read. If they answer correctly, the player can keep the card. Collect 5 parks to win. Omit the detailed map guide for extra challenge. The tri-tray box stores trivia cards, one wood die, and a folded, Tyvek® map. 1-7 players (or in teams).

Scrambled States of America (ages 8+)

This is perhaps the most fun your kids will have while learning the geography of our great country. While yelling out state names and slapping cards, the names and nicknames of the states, state outlines, and capitals will sink in almost automatically! The object of the game is to put the most states "home" in the right place by correctly matching State Cards to Scramble Cards. The player who collects the most State Cards wins. The new Deluxe edition includes a U.S. map for reference, State Cards, Scramble Cards, and instructions. New challenges and a copy of the Scrambled States of America book are also included. Whoever said that learning about U.S. geography had to be boring? For 2-5 players.

Crazy States Card Game (ages 4+)

It's Crazy Eights with states! Play is the same: take turns playing cards by matching either the color or the number in the corner and 8s are wild.

The first player to run out of cards, wins. The difference is that each one of these large-sized, colorful cards features a state with the capital name and several fun and interesting state facts. Kids won't even realize how much knowledge they are acquiring! 2-5 players.

Trekking the National Parks (ages 10+)

Produced by a family who personally visited every national park, this game will give you the trekking bug as well! Players compete to claim the most victory points by visiting and/or claiming parks, camping at the major parks, and collecting stones. The board is a map of the United States, with 45 national parks identified in their approximate location.

Stones are placed on each park at the beginning of the game. Each turn, players choose two actions: Draw a Trek, Claim a Park, Move, or Occupy a Major Park. Trek cards have different icons and numbers and are used to move and to claim park cards. The first player to land on any park gets to claim the stone; you can only claim a park if it is one of the 3 park cards turned up at the bottom of the board and the right Trek cards are in your hand. If you visit and set up camp at a Major Park, you are granted some special abilities. Each park card has beautiful park photography and information, so you can learn as you play! 2-5 players, approximately 30-60 minutes.

American Trivia: Family Edition (ages 9+)

How much do you know about America? This family board game contains 2,520 questions about the land of the free, printed on 360 cards. Each card is double-sided, with easier questions for the younger crowd on one side, and harder questions for the older folks on the other. The goal is to move your pawn from sea to shining sea – all players start on the east coast and move west with every correctly answered question. A spinner determines which category you'll answer on your turn (Geography, History, and General on one side, with the addition of Art on the harder side), and you need to get twelve right before anyone else. So – what's the state sport of Alaska? 2-6 players. Please note that this is the revised edition of the previously-published All American Trivia game by the same supplier.

GeoBingo (ages 4+)

Learn about 50 countries while playing the classic game of Bingo. The goal of GeoBingo is to get 5 countries in a row on one of the 8 GeoBingo boards. This set contains 50 country cards, 8 Bingo boards, and 50 white Bingo chips. Each colorful country card lists the name of the country at the top and features a map of the country, with the capital city and surrounding geographical features (bodies of water, bordering countries) clearly labeled. Each card also lists the country's population and total area in square kilometers, and the cards are labeled and color coded according to continent. The Bingo boards have 25 squares (5 x 5), with each square color coded by continent with a silhouette and name of a different country. To play, students place chips on their Bingo boards when their country is called. The first player to get 5 in a row card is the winner!

Brainbox: All Around the World (ages 8+)

Is it a trivia game or a memory game? Actually, it's both! This game consists of 71 game cards, a sand timer, and an eight-sided die. To play, the first player selects a card and turns over the ten-second timer. After studying the image on the front of the card for ten seconds, the first player rolls the dice and passes the card to the second player. The second player then reads the numbered question on the back of the card that corresponds to the rolled dice number. The questions test the player's ability to remember information from the card, such as capitals, flags, bordering countries, landmarks, and more. If the player gets the question right, they get to keep the card; if not, the card goes back into the game box. The player that has the most cards after ten minutes wins!

World Trivia Games (ages 8+)

Test and grow your knowledge of the world with these fun trivia games! Can you correctly name the flag, wonder, or animal and place it in the continent where it belongs? Each game includes 6 continent mats, 200 cards with a picture on one side and facts on the other, and a coded map identifying where the things are found. Gameplay and playing time varies between game versions. For 2-6 players.

NEW The World Explorer (ages 4-8)

Each player has a suitcase card with 8 spots to fill. Four country cards (USA/France/Italy/China) show money, landmarks, a map, the flag, food, and other country icons. Then it becomes a visual discrimination/memory game as a player flips over a tile to see if it matches anything on the country card. If yes, you add that tile to your suitcase. The goal is to be the first to fill your suitcase with tiles. Instructions are simple (and printed on the back of the tin). 2-4 players.

Cardline: Globetrotter (ages 7+)

Games are the perfect format to learn geography, and this one is especially simple and effective. Similar to the Timeline games from the same company, each player holds four cards and tries to place them correctly in relation to the cards already on the table. The front of the card shows the country name and a fitting illustration, the back of the card contains the same picture along with four pieces of relevant information: the country's population, pollution output, gross domestic product, and land area. Players decide which characteristic to play by, flip one card up in the middle, and then take turns trying to place their country cards correctly around the ones on the table. Once a player has selected a spot for their card, they turn it over to view the information and see if they were right. The first player to correctly place all of their cards wins. A great game for learning about countries and compiling tidbits of knowledge!

NEW Go Fish Knowledge Boost Best Games (ages 6-12)

Play a game of educational go-fish—you'll walk away knowing more about your world! Just like Go Fish or Trumps, the game's goal is to collect the 4 cards in a series! Each themed game highlights 10 different themes to learn about: significant thinkers, pioneers, explorers, countries, and landmarks.

You might match 4 major world waterfalls or the major life events of Madam Curie. Each set of 41 elongated cards comes in a 4"x 6" tin for easy travel, and includes instructions. Play time is generally ten to twenty minutes; 2-6 players.

EACH GAME ..... 7.95

NEW Apple Twist Game (ages 5+)

This creative problem-solving game will test spatial insight, logic, and more! The game board is in the shape of an apple and has 5 rows of trays, with varying dimples, that rotate around the apples' core. The game pieces are 3 colored caterpillars with varying numbers of round body pieces and 2 rotating joints. To start, select a challenge, and then rotate the apple to match the dimple placement pictured in the challenge. The challenge also shows the starting spot for each caterpillar head. Place all caterpillars on the apple, only fitting the body pieces into the apple's dimples. There is only one solution for each challenge. Includes a 5.75" x 5.75" apple base, 1 booklet with 60 challenges in 4 different difficulty levels, and 3 caterpillar pieces. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Squirrels Go Nuts (ages 6+)

An adorable 3-D sliding puzzle with a bit of a twist. The little squirrels in this puzzle are all holding their acorn stash in front of them, and the board has holes in it for your squirrels' acorns to be buried. Rather than guiding the squirrels out of the puzzle, your objective is to help them all drop their acorns into the ground. When all the acorns have been buried, you've solved the puzzle! There are 60 progressively more difficult puzzle scenarios and a plastic traveling lid included. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Rush Hour® (ages 6+)

Traffic jams have been called a great many things... inconveniences, frustrations, and major aggravations, just to name a few. How about fun? Yes, fun! In this thinking skills puzzle, your goal is to slide all of the other 15 vehicles from the congested formation to get yours home without a scratch. 40 different puzzle cards are included, along with a multitude of little brightly-colored cars and trucks in a sturdy gray street-like base. Four skill level cards—beginner, intermediate, advanced, and expert—make it more enjoyable for everyone, regardless of age. Try your sequential thinking skills... not your patience!

005108 Rush Hour ..... 20.95

005257 Rush Hour Jr. (ages 5+) ..... 20.95

Same fun as the original, but playing piece is an ice-cream truck to guide through the maze of fire trucks, police cars, and other vehicles. Comes with 40 new junior challenge cards, and a bag to store the game in.

021129 My First Rush Hour (ages 3+) ..... 21.95

This version features a clear "parking lot" game board that you simply slide the large challenge card into. Then, with no reading skills necessary, place the cars and trucks on the matching spots on the grid (matching by shape and color). The little red hero car must then navigate the maze to the exit. Early challenges don't require moving any other vehicles except the hero car, in more advanced challenges, players must slide one or two vehicles so they can escape the gridlock. 30 challenges, in 3 levels, on 15 double-sided cards.

Jumpin' (ages 7+)

In this adorable game, place the mushrooms and rabbit(s) according to the puzzle booklet, and then move the rabbit to one of the brown rabbit holes in the amount of moves noted. There's a catch though: the rabbit cannot move without jumping over an item. For more challenge, add one or both of the foxes. Foxes slide around the board, often providing the necessary item the rabbit must leap over to reach safety. 60 puzzles and 9 pieces.

NEW Jungle Logic Game (ages 7+)

This is a strategic game that will test your problem-solving skills and creativity. The game includes 30 challenge cards (increasing levels of difficulty), 9 animal tokens, and 1 instruction booklet. To start, choose a challenge card. Each row of sections will either be blank, or picture an animal with a number indicating how many animals are in that row. Based on the animals indicated on the card, place each token on a card section. Once all sections are filled with tokens, no tokens should be left over. When you are satisfied with the outcome of the puzzle, compare it to the answer key in the back of the instruction booklet. One player.

NEW IQ Circuit Game (ages 8+)

This is a pocket-sized game that will test your concentration, problem solving, and spatial reasoning skills. To start a challenge, select your desired difficulty level, then try to arrange all the circuit board wire pieces back into the empty tray while matching the dot sequence featured in that level (2, 4, or 6 dots). Each dot pair has to be connected by one continuous line. There is only one solution to each challenge. Includes 1 travel case, challenge booklet with 120 challenges in 5 difficulty levels, and 10 circuit pieces. The instruction booklet fits inside the 3.6" x 5.5" travel case. 1 player. CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs. 038496 ..... 11.99

NEW IQ Digits Game (ages 7+)

Played similarly to other IQ Games, this Digits edition uses the numbers 0 – 9 as the shape pieces for the puzzles. Beginning with an empty tray, place the starting numbers from the featured puzzle as pictured. From there, fill in the remaining numbers until all can properly fit into the tray. There is only one solution for each challenge. Each game includes 1 travel case, challenge booklet with 120 challenges in 5 difficulty levels, and 10 circuit pieces. The instruction booklet fits inside the 5.4" x 5.4" travel case. 1 player. CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Kanoodle™ (ages 7+)

These Tetris-like puzzles feature several "noodles" resembling beads that are stuck together in different configurations. The object of the game is to fit all of the noodles on the Kanoodle board. Each setup has hundreds of possible combinations but just one solution. It can get quite frustrating when you end up with one bead off the board and one open spot! Once you master the 2D setup, you can play 3D Kanoodle with the same key concept but one challenging twist - use all of the pieces to make a pyramid. CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

The 12 shapes correspond to a letter and only fit a certain way in the frame. Guide booklet shows 200 puzzles with some pieces in place. Your job is to fit the rest of the pieces into the frame. Sounds easy enough, but it's not!

076828 Flip (ages 8+) ..... 11.95

Three uniquely shaped pieces that flip around the square board to the goal, and 100 challenge cards to complete in as few moves as possible.

009927 Head-to-Head ..... 16.95

Race against an opponent to solve one of 80 puzzles. Solve it first, then press the button to send your opponent's pieces flying!

013565 Gravity ..... 15.75

Slide the 10 tetris-style pieces into the grid in the correct arrangement to solve. Contains 40 puzzles at varying degrees of difficulty. All pieces store neatly in the game board.

3-D Crystal Puzzles (ages 10+)

Beautifully designed and perplexing in nature, these 3-D puzzles are a delight to both the mind and eyes. The glossy, vibrant pieces interlock to form sleek objects that are aesthetically pleasing enough to become decorations. The perfect challenging puzzles for serious puzzlers. Pieces ranges from 37-49 and up to 105 for deluxe.

Rubik's outside the box! This spherical puzzle features colored 360° rings around the center sphere. Slide and move the rings to match the colors all the way around.

Thinking Putty® Puzzle Game (ages 8+)

Thinkfun and Crazy Aaron® bring you this one-of-a-kind logic puzzle! Each challenge card instructs you to place two dots of up to six different colors of putty on the grid. Now you must connect the dots by bending and stretching the putty, but you can't intersect with other colors. Bridges and blockers help you go over and around other colors without touching them. Sixty cards take you from beginner- to expert-level challenges and put your spatial reasoning skills to the test! Set includes a puzzle grid with a base for storage, 6 colors of Thinking Putty, 4 bridge pieces, 4 bridge blockers, 60 cards with solutions, and instructions. Truly a mind-stretching exercise!

Laser Maze (ages 8+)

Guide the laser through the maze of mirrors. First, set up the laser and arrange the tokens per the instructions on one of the challenge cards. Your challenge is to arrange the rest of the tokens to reflect the laser through to the goal. A variety of tokens are available, such as beam splitters, mirrors, double-mirrors, and more to get the laser from the start to the checkpoint. The set comes with 11 tokens and 60 challenges across four difficulties.

Circuit Maze (ages 8+)

Combine logic and science for a fun, electrifying lesson in circuitry. 16 tokens snap into place in different combinations to complete the circuit and light the beacon. Challenge cards show where to place your starter token, and then you figure out where to place the other tokens needed to complete the pattern (circuit). Three AAA batteries (not included) are placed in the battery receptacle, which is also your start token. The start and finish tokens are wired together and are the power supply for your circuit. Includes 60 challenge cards: beginner, intermediate, advanced and expert. Light up your thinking with this twist on the Rush Hour game. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs. 015606 ..... 29.95

Solitaire Chess (ages 12+)

Condensing the most exciting part of chess into a puzzle game, Solitaire Chess gives you 10 pieces (king, queen, and two knights, rooks, pawns, and bishops) and 40 challenges. Your goal is to have only one piece left, but there are some rules – you can only move in accordance with traditional chess rules, and you have to capture a piece with every move. Fast-paced and requiring an ample amount of forethought and carefulness, this game would be excellent for chess aficionados or logic puzzle lovers alike.

Knot So Fast (ages 8+)

Does your brain need a workout? While this dexterity game is super easy to pick up and play, the challenges might leave your mind tied in knots! The 40 challenges really test your spatial reasoning and manual dexterity. Challenge cards progress from beginner to expert. Single player.

Marble Circuit (ages 8+)

Eight small metal marbles sit at the top of the board. Your job: complete the circuit paths to guide them to the proper destinations. Sitting between the marbles and their homes are different circuit pathways, some featuring 2 split pathways, some cross paths, some allowing for a right exit, and some allowing for a left exit. 64 challenge cards show you where the marbles need to end up, and how many should arrive in each ending slot. The earlier, easier challenges have most of the circuit pathways tiles placed, with only a couple of holes for you to fill in. As you progress in difficulty, fewer and fewer tiles are shown on the card, leaving more for you to puzzle through. Solutions are found on the back of each card in case you get stumped. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs. 074710 ..... 26.95

NEW Mazescape (ages 8+)

These perplexing maze puzzles are captivatingly exciting and intriguing. Each set includes 7 maze maps and 1 stylus. Start at the specified starting point, and use the stylus to follow the white map lines. The goal is to find the impossible triangle at the end of the maze. You can follow the white path up the stairs and under the bridges, but you can never lift the stylus to jump to another line. The map can even be folded back and forth to connect lines that otherwise would not have been reachable; however, you cannot make a new crease or fold the piece you are currently located on. The end of one map leads to the start of the next map. Do you have what it takes to complete the befuddling 7 map journey? 1 player, with a playing time of 5 – 90 minutes. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

GraviTrax (ages 8+)

Welcome to GraviTrax, an entirely gravity-powered, 100%-modular marble run system for the modern age. There are three key components: hexagonal Height Tiles (provide elevation), Track Tiles, (which rest on Height Tiles and consist of curves, junctions, and intersections for marbles to travel on), and Track Lengths (which hook into and connect Track Tiles). And, of course, colored marbles to race together! Special Track Tiles, such as the Vortex, Launch Pad, or Magnetic Cannon, provide acceleration and flair to the course. Build the track in any configuration desired and let the marbles run wild! Do you want a 3-way race? One long track with crazy twists and turns? It's up to you! Please note the Starter Set is required for all expansions & accessories.

NEW Terra Kids Connectors (ages 8+)

Unlike other building kits, resources from the great outdoors are necessary to expand your creations. The principle is simple and ingenious: drill holes in sticks and bits of wood, join them together using the connectors provided and watch your nature creation take shape. Kits include basic instructions and components like a hand drill, wooden pieces, and connectors. Three to four suggested builds are included in each set. But the more sticks, leaves and bark that are collected, the greater the possibilities! Required, but not included, are a hand saw and file. Adult supervision required.

CDX® Blocks (ages 10+)

These roller coaster and carnival ride sets will give you thrills you won't find in an amusement park, such as the thrill of creating and building your own roller coaster from the ground up! Or the thrill of using a realistic chain with a crank handle to pull your rollercoaster to the top of the initial big hill and watching it zoom around the track, pulled by g-forces alone! Roller coaster trains come assembled and have "precision machined metal wheels for high efficiency and smooth operation." The high quality, plastic roller coaster pieces are all compatible with the world's leading building block system (and others like it!), if you want to create new designs. The Little Dipper (332 pieces) measures 19" in length, the Flyer (539 pieces) is 28" long, the Sidewinder (825 pieces) stretches 38" long, and the Cyclone (900+ pieces) reaches a whopping 48" in length! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). ## Armor Play Sets (ages 4-8)

After the presents are all unwrapped, you can dress your kids up and send them off to battle the evil of this world with this realistic (but plastic!) weaponry. The armor will cover your kid's chest and head (if worn properly) and there is a shield for one arm and a 21" sword which will fit just right in their other hand. Kids can compete against each other or join forces to attack stronger armies—like their father or older siblings!

Parris Cap Guns & Gear

The West: the frontier of America. Whether it's the larger-than-life heroes like Davy Crockett, the independence and adventure of the cowboys, the hard, rough work of the frontier lawman, or the humble hardworking rancher, the West has captured the American imagination and soul. These replica cap guns tap into that imagination. Saddle up, partner! All cap guns feature orange tips. Please note some general rules for cap gun safety: never point or shoot at anyone; do not fire closer than 1 foot to ear; hold gun at arm's length when firing; unload gun when not in use; store ammunition separately from gun; treat every gun with respect; never carry caps in a pocket; do not remove caps from package until ready to use; use only under adult supervision. Please note that these items cannot be shipped to California.

Pretend & Play Teaching ATM Bank (ages 3+)

This mini ATM comes with 20 play coins, 10 play bills, and an ATM card. Simply turn it on, insert your card and pin number, and make a deposit. The ATM will keep track of how much money you've inserted. You can also swap out the play money for your own currency. The coin slot will recognize standard US coins and add those to your balance. Insert bills, push the +$ button, and type in the amount. The ATM will add those amounts to your savings as well. Make withdrawals from the compartment in the bottom, but be sure to enter the amount to accurately track your savings. Lost your ATM card or forgot your PIN? No worries! Just wait 10 seconds and the computer will bypass these steps to show you your balance. 10"H x 4.5"D x 8"W.

NEW Gel Blasters! (ages 12+)

Take active play to the next level with this eco-friendly, low mess alternative to air soft and paintball. Powered by a rechargeable battery, the fully automatic Gel Blaster Surge blasts biodegradable, non-toxic, water based Gelllets™ nearly 100 ft. Gel Blaster Gelllets™ are small, colorful hydrating balls made from Super Absorbent Polymer (SAP) (similar to what you find inside a diaper). Exploding on contact, evaporation begins immediately. No staining and no messy clean up! The slight sting is like a rubber band snap on skin, which is much less painful than alternatives. Purchase of the Surge also includes the USB C Charging Cable, 2 gravity feed hoppers/feednecks that hold 800 gelllets™, safety goggles, 3000-round orange Gellet™ pack and 3000-round blue Gellet™ pack. Additional Gelllets™ are available separately in packs of 10,000.

Gelllets™ must be soaked a minimum of 2 hours to fully expand (10x their size) before use, and once soaked can store up to two weeks. A one-gallon airtight container is recommended for 10,000 Gelllets™. Any container will work or purchase the 1.5 gallon Collapsible Gellet™ Tub which holds up to 15000 gelllets™ and includes a built-in strainer to remove excess water when it is time to play! Tub collapses for storage when empty. No Gelllets™ are included with purchase of the tub. Personalize your Gel Blaster with a Custom Color Barrel and Fin Pack or add an Extra Hopper and Feedneck to always be ready for the next blitz attack! The Gel Blaster Auto Resetting Target features three automatic resetting targets, LED score counter, and a hit indicator that uses lights and sounds when the target is hit! Requires 3 AAA batteries (not included).

Gel Baster provides young people a fun, and safe alternative to similar extreme sports. Great way to provide next level sibling bonding and rigorous physical activity! Eye protection required, and long pants/sleeves are recommended. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Spikeball (ages 8+)

Imagine volleyball, but the net is on a trampoline, and the goal is to bounce the tennis-sized volleyball off it. To begin, two teams of 2 players square off around the spikeball trampoline; the first player serves by bouncing the ball off the trampoline towards the opposing team.

From there all chaos breaks loose: there are no boundaries! Teams have 3 hits between them, like volleyball, before the ball must be spiked off the net once again. Game continues until the ball hits the rim, ground, or bounces twice on the net. Rules can be modified, making this hectic outdoor game perfect for small groups, families, and all kinds of events! Set includes 3 Spikeballs, a Spikeball net, a drawstring bag for storing the set, and a rulebook. Weighing 3 pounds, it's a perfect for the beach, yard, and travel.

Blast Pad® (ages 6+)

Are you ready for some "out-of-this-world" fun? We've all seen the air rockets – you jump on the launcher and send the rocket flying. But you haven't seen anything until you see these sets – they'll give you some SERIOUS height!

The durable foam-tipped arrows provide very little resistance as they disappear to a tiny dot way up in the sky. They are sleek and lightweight, and their slim design makes it less likely that they will get caught in trees as they fall gently back to the ground. Simply pop up the launcher (minimal assembly required), slide on a rocket, and you're ready to fly!

The Blast Pad includes three 10.5" missiles that fly over 200'. The Blast Pad Pro® includes three 25 1/2" missiles that shoot from a tripod launcher, over 300'. The higher you jump, and the harder you stomp as you land, the more impressive your launch will be!

NEW Lightweight Balance Bikes (ages 3 – 6)

With a rotating handlebar and no foot pedals, young riders can enjoy just pushing themselves around on the bikes without worrying about tiny training wheels getting stuck or shin scrapes from pedals. These durable bikes allow for the rider to move at their own pace, and keep their feet on solid ground. Made from nylon-reinforced fiberglass, these bikes can be cleaned and left outside without worrying about rust. The standard cruiser is 20.8" tall, 32.6" long, and 5.5 lbs. The mini cruiser is 20" tall, 30.7" long, and 4.8 lbs. Height is measured from ground to handlebars. Each bike has an adjustable seat.

Rody (ages 3+)

The perfect riding toy! Rodies are huggable, squeezable, adorable, and great for bouncing and racing. While they are lightweight, they are also made of heavy-duty vinyl to withstand quite a bit of weight and roughhousing. They can be used around water for some splashy good times too! Aside from just being fun, these toys also develop balance and coordination. Rody measures 21"H (including head) by 18"L and supports up to 150 lbs. Rody Max is a larger, sturdier version for riders 5 and up - even adults! ## Scooter Board (ages 4+)

A favorite toy for the gym, driveway, or any hard floor, scooter boards are a great source of fun and exercise! Safety handles keep hands away from the wheels, and the sturdy plastic wheels won't damage floors. Made of durable plastic with a lightly textured top, these scooter boards hold up to 175 lbs. The blue, green, and purple boards measure approximately 16.25" x 11" x 3.75", and the red heavy-duty board measures 12" x 16" x 3.75".

Playzone-fit Shape Up Twist N Spin (ages 3+)

Similar to the classic "sit and spin" toys of old, the Twist N Spin rotates when sat or stood upon but has no central column to rotate around. The disc instead spins in nearly-frictionless motion via ball bearings, so riders must support and balance themselves with their own muscles, making the Twist N Spin a bit of an abdominal workout as well. The toy's small size of only 12" in diameter and 3" in height allows for easy storage.

Supports up to 175 lbs.

Air Pogo Jumper (ages 6+)

Super challenge – super workout! The Air Pogo Jumper is a simple toy that requires fierce concentration. A hands-free toy, you insert the tough rubber ball into the plastic foot plate and inflate it using the supplied hand pump. The ball is shaped in such a way that its inflated shape will keep it in place, and allow the jumper to hold up to 220 pounds! Then you simply stand on the foot-plate, grip the ball with your feet, and jump away. A real cardio workout!

Jump Ropes – 8' & 16' (ages 8+)

These high-quality jump ropes are made of double braided rope and are 3/8" in diameter. The confetti colors are shot through with contrasting colors giving them a "confetti" look. The rainbow colors are one solid color. There are no painful or breakable handles, just knots. Additionally, the ropes are well weighted for a good "throw," kink-resistant, and machine-washable. We offer both 8' and 16' sizes for solitary or group jump roping. See color swatch for color choices.

Walkaroo Stilts (ages 4+)

Stilts are one of those classic toys that children of all ages (and adults!) continue to enjoy. Walkaroo stilts are ergonomically-designed, durable, and easy to use with many great features. Not only are they adjustable and able to accommodate a range of heights, but they also have non-slip foot rests and rubber "feet." These are great toys for developing physical balance and self-confidence.

018956 Walkaroo Jr. Stilts (5+)-(J) . . . . . 38.95

Lighter-weight aluminum stilts intended for children as young as 5 and up to 110 lbs. with S-shaped, foam-covered shoulder rests.

061369 Walkaroo Wee Stilts (4+)-(K) . . . . . 37.95

With durable, yet lightweight, steel tub construction, these stilts don't have shoulder rests, but have a C-shaped handle with grippable foam, and are easier to balance on which makes them great for younger riders. For children and adults from 3' – 5' 10" and up to 180 lbs.

052135 Walkaroo Extreme (7+)-(L) . . . . . 57.95

With 17" of lift, your child can easily become adult size. Made of lightweight steel, with foam-covered shoulder rests and handles, and adjustable from 5" to 17" by using extensions. Riders from 4' to 6' 6" tall and up to 210 lbs.

Slackline Classic Series (ages 5+)

Walk the tightrope with Slackline! The Slackline is a 50' nylon tightrope which is tethered at two ends. It's held slightly slack to prevent "rolling" of the feet or rope as with traditional tightrope cables. Typically used for teaching and learning to control balance, this kit can also be used for building core strength, tricks, or as an outdoor game supplement. So go ahead - start slacking!

055997 Red (G) . . . . . 79.95

Includes tree protectors & instructional DVD.

055991 with Teaching Line (H) . . . . . 71.99

Included is a Teaching Line to help beginners control their balance.

055999 Beginner (40')-(I) . . . . . 69.00

The rubberized print makes this Slackline ideal for beginners or for focusing on balance.

Slackers® Ninjalines (ages 6+)

Start your training to be a Ninja Warrior with these slackers obstacle course elements! Each component provides a unique challenge, but all take strength and agility to conquer. Incorporate individual pieces into your own backyard obstacle course or try the kit options for a diverse and all-encompassing ninja experience. Each individual apparatus features a steel delta clip that can be attached to eye bolts or hooks; lines contain the apparatus' and the slackers line, just attach the ends to trees or posts. Slackers lines feature steel ratchets for a safe, tight fit and easy up and down. Pieces can be placed in any order and spaced closer or further apart to increase difficulty; customize yours by adding the individual obstacles listed.

025375 36' Intro Kit (A) . . . . . 89.95

Includes 36' slackers line with ratchet, two 16" monkey bar holds, two gymnastic rings with textured grip, and three monkeyfists (knotted nylon rope), and a storage bag.

American Ninja Warrior™ Ninjaline (ages 5+)

Kids will love to train like the pros from one of America's biggest sports entertainment phenomenon with this official American Ninja Warrior™ Ninjaline training system. The 34' Ninjaline kit uses a professional quality, 10,000 lb. strength weave that's 2" wide and can also be used as a slackline for additional balance and agility training. Ninjaline includes 6 obstacles—1 nylon rope knot, 1 steel T bar, 2 steel monkey bar holds (16"), 2 steel gym rings with ABS textured grip—all of which can be spaced together or further apart for a more challenging training experience within the 11 pockets incorporated into the Ninjaline. Plus, there's plenty of room for further customizing by adding other official American Ninja Warrior™ obstacles and accessories for a more diverse training regimen. Includes a sturdy carrying bag, gym chalk ball, and 8 metal carabiners. Max weight: 250 lbs.

034821 Ninjaline 34' Kit (B) . . . . . 99.95

034699 Climbing Rope 8' (C) . . . . . 24.95

Designed as an additional accessory, this set includes: 8ft white heavy-duty rope with 4 climbing disks and 2 metal carabiners that can connect each end of the rope to the Ninjaline (not included). (limited inventory)

Slackers Ninjalines Obstacles/Accessories:

025313 Climbing Rope (8')-(D) . . . . . 24.99

This 8-foot climbing rope has several footholds, but don't think that makes it easy!

An 8-ft rope ladder with six wooden rungs.

067253 Ninja Wheel (F) . . . . . 22.25

Add spinning fun to your Ninjaline with this 14" diameter steering wheel ring that hangs from a 10" nylon rope. Comes with 1 delta carabiner. Max weight 250 lbs.

034909 Ninja Twister (G) . . . . . 31.49

Kid powered spinning fun. Includes blue metal handle, adjustable rope and 1 metal carabiner. Use with Ninjaline or alone on sturdy structure. Max weight: 250 lbs.

028752 Rickety Bridge (H) . . . . . 53.99

Challenges balance and focus, while giving your upper arms a break from the traditional Ninja obstacles. Simulating the "broken bridge", this obstacle features three adjustable up or down tubes on ropes for various skill levels, to create a tunnel through challenge!

Max weight: 250 lbs.

NEW Ninja Bridge 40' (ages 3 +)

Create a safer version of a rickety, moving bridge in your own backyard! Just fasten the end of each strap to a stable object—such as a large, healthy tree—and experience this fun activity for yourself. The nature of this bridge adds extra challenge and core-building exercise. Each wooden plank of the bridge is suspended, allowing it to swing freely. Increase your strength and balance while having fun! Included in this kit are 40' long straps with ratchets, 5 adjustable height moving steps, 2 spacer bars, 4 optional stationary cups, and a carrying bag.

041946 (I) . . . . . 80.99

NEW Slackers Swing Line (ages 3+)

When your little ones are ready for the next level of outdoor play, this portable, easy to set up swing set line may perfectly fit your needs. Requiring two compatible, healthy trees with a diameter of 12" each, the swingline swing set can be set up in 30 minutes or less. Targeting young ones, who are just beginning to develop coordination and upper body strength, the Swing Line allows parents to rearrange the line of activities to best fit their children's needs. The complete kit (SwingLine 36' with 4 swinging obstacles) comes with a 36' Ninjaline without pockets, two mesh swings, one steel monkey bar and two gym rings. Also included are grip clips (10) and a ratchet cover. The complete kit includes a carrying bag for on the go play, or for convenient storage. With a 250 lb. weight limit and additional obstacles, the swing line will meet the needs of your family for years to come.

Swurfer (Swing Reinvented) (ages 3+) ▶

What do you get when you combine swinging with surfing? Swurfing, of course! This new version of the age-old swing is used standing up and moving side to side. Of course you'll need a sturdy, long tree branch to give you plenty of room and a decent amount of balance, but then you'll be swurfing the skies! The bamboo swing is curved up at the ends with ropes on each side and adjustable wooden handles. Rope is high strength, double braided, and UV and mildew resistant for years of use. Assembly is simple, made even simpler with their instructional videos. Comes with enough rope (60 ft.) to be able to mount it to a 15-ft high tree branch. 200 lb. weight limit.

063632 (J) . . . . . 129.99

Adventure MG Swing (ages 5+)

A comfortable relaxing ride or a crazy spin with friends, it's up to you with this versatile swing! The swing is shaped like a large disc measuring a spacious 39" in diameter. The swing is constructed of foam covered steel tubes encased in UV resistant outdoor fabric. This gives it a solid seating surface (no spaces for arms or legs to get stuck through) that dips slightly in the middle for comfort. You can hang it from either two points (for traditional swinging) or from one for spinning and swinging in circles. Swing holds up to 330 lbs. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

018607 . . . . 69.95

Swurfer Kick Plastic Swingboard (ages 6+)

This plastic version of the Swurfer is meant for smaller riders (up to 150 lbs.) and smaller spaces. Same stand-up-swing idea as big brother, with comfortable handles and non-slip tread, but you can hang this one on a smaller tree, swing set, or porch (up to 12 ft high).

A. NEW Country Cottage Play Tent (ages 3+)

This wonderful play tent features a vibrant and imaginative print design, as well a roomy and interactive structure. When assembled, the tent stands about 4' tall and 3' long. Assembly for the tent is much like that of a camping tent having snap-together rods and durable structure material—all fitting into the included storage bag. The house-shaped tent also has hinged windows which open and close, a roll-up flap front door, mail slot with included poster, and more!

AirFort (ages 3+)

Forget moving furniture, bringing out all the blankets from the closets, and holding down tricky corners with stacks of books; all you need to set up this fort is air! Stick the Velcro strips to a regular box fan, turn on the fan, and watch the fort inflate in seconds. Made from parachute fabric, the main fort area measures 6.5' in diameter and 50" tall at the center peak. A mesh window offers a view in or out and a tunnel with a mesh divider connects the dome to the box fan which minimizes the air flow so that there is no windy blast inside the fort. When the fort is inflated it hovers just off the ground and kids can simply lift up the edge to run in or out. AirForts tear down as easily as they go up — turn off the fan, pull the Velcro strips apart, and stuff it into the included carrying bag until next time you need an instant fort!

Playzone-fit Stepping Stones (ages 3+)

Convert any flat surface into a tricky stepping-stone path! These durable plastic “stepping stones” can be set up in any safe-to-play environment, turning a simple walk across the living room into a balancing journey. These five stepping stones come in two sizes, large and small, and can be set up in any order to create a variety of courses indoors or out. Each plastic stepping stone is light enough for kids to place and pick up but supports up to 175 pounds. Far less dangerous and inconvenient than hopping across a real river, they offer an opportunity for fun, balance, and motor skills.

NEW Fold and Go Trampoline (ages 3+)

This super easy-to-assemble trampoline makes a great play toy for travel or trips to Grandma's house. With preassembled fold-out springs, a snap-in/screw-in handlebar, and screw-in leg pegs; this set up can be feasibly assembled by just one person and takes up little storage space. Protective padding is included to cover the springs and handlebar. The trampoline can safely hold up to 150 pounds. Dimensions are 36" in diameter and 35" from floor to handlebar.

Great for indoor or outdoor use!

How to Build Treehouses, Huts and Forts

by David Stiles

How to Build Treehouses, Huts & Forts

(ages 8+)

Spend the cozy winter huddled up making big plans for that awesome tree fort you can build come spring! This book was designed for dads (or moms!) to use alongside their kids, as all of the projects do require some carpentry as well as a working knowledge of tools and building materials. While some of the projects could be weekend projects (with a little preparation), some of the more impressive plans might turn into a summer project. Either way, simple directions are given in progressive steps, with black and white illustrations aiding in the process. 96 pgs.

Garden Fort

(ages 4+)

Children love secret forts, so why not introduce a bit of nature study into their discoveries? Easy to assemble frame is constructed of metal, with PVC connectors and polyethylene netting mesh. It can be assembled in 15-30 minutes. Once assembled, simply plant the (included) packages of seeds (sweet pea and scarlet runner beans) and in 3-4 weeks, a lush garden and secret hideout appear! Want a lush experience, add more seeds (cucumbers would provide an amazing climbing vine). Families may wish to verify the USDA Planting Zone, to determine the best growing season in your area. Children will experience the joys of gardening and nature studies, while enjoying a quiet place of solitude in the warm afternoons. Garden Fort measures approximately 58"L x 48"W x 58"H. Best of all, seeds can be planted year after year!

Treasure Tubes (ages 3+)

Display nature finds and treasures in these clear acrylic mini tubes with wooden end caps. Great for securing and observing leaves, pine cones, shells, flowers, feathers, rocks and more. These would even be fun for sound exploration as you fill them with various objects. Top removes easily for adding and removing items. Contains 8 tubes with largest measuring 3"W x 5.75" H and smallest 3.5" H. 075738 ..... 50.36

Treasure Blocks (ages 3+)

Mini wooden shadow boxes feature clear acrylic windows on both sides for displaying and observing small objects found in nature: twigs, leaves, flowers, acorns, shells, feathers, rocks and more. These would be great for creating little nature scenes and artistic 3D collages. A removeable panel with 2 screws adds and secures objects. Contains 8 blocks of various sizes with the largest measuring 5.5"x 5.5"x 2". ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs. 075737 ..... 41.96

Nature Logs (ages 8-12)

Here's a place for kids to record all of their nature "finds," from observations to musings to artwork. We like these journals because they are structured, but with check-boxes and short questions, so children don't have to write extensively, but can record what they notice or what interests them. Journals measure 5" x 8" and contain about 30 log pages, photo/artwork pages, a quick log (to keep a running record of entries), nature information, and activity ideas.

NEW Terra Kids Insect Hotel Assembly (ages 8+)

Take your nature study to the next level with this wooden insect hotel.

Easy assembly and attractive to a variety of beneficial insects, children of all skill levels will feel like they are important to the ecosystem as they provide safe homes for this oft forgotten member of the environment. Once assembled, grab your nature journal and insect identification guides, and let the learning begin! Quality wood panels require no cutting and attach using the included screws. You provide the screwdriver. Metal capping on the apex protects against rain. The interior consists of 8 pre-drilled wooden logs and children are encouraged to gather other natural materials outdoors. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs. 055448 ..... 24.99

Explore One Adventure Scope (ages 8+)

Sometimes it seems like the coolest things to check out are just out of reach - under a rock pile or up in a bird's nest. Well, with the Adventure Scope, you can safely check out those tucked-away places! It's a video camera with a 2.3" LCD viewing screen and a camera at opposite ends of a 27" flexible coil. Bright LED lights on the camera illuminate dim places, and several kids can all crowd around and look at the screen to see critters and bugs up close. Plus, it might come in handy for those times when you lose small items under an appliance! While the resolution is fairly low, this is a fascinating tool! Requires 3 AAA batteries, not included. 049535 ..... 30.95

Carson AdventurePak Kid's Outdoor Adventure Set (ages 7+)

Made especially for your young nature lover, this kit has all the items they need for exploration and observation. It includes Hawk 5X binoculars, a flashlight, compass, signal whistle with thermometer, and a nylon carrying pouch that can be slipped onto a belt. All pieces are durable and well-made, and although they are toys, they are still accurate and usable. The flashlight uses 2 AA batteries (not included).

002772 Hawk Binoculars only .... 17.99

Quality kids binoculars with 5X power, 30mm objective lenses, a center focus wheel, carrying strap and a case.

X-Scope (ages 4+)

If you crossed a common, ordinary pocket microscope with a Swiss Army knife, you just might end up with the X-Scope. This handy little pocket-size 30x microscope also includes an 8x pull-out telescope, a 9x magnifying hand lens, a clock, a whistle, a compass and a flashlight! Ok, if you aren't bedazzled with all those extra features, you will definitely be impressed with the quality of magnification and the bright, sharp viewing provided by the LED bulb. Just flip the light switch, place the object you want to observe underneath, and look through the lens on the top. Compared to other pocket microscopes in our office, this one allowed us to see all those Asian beetles in much more detail! 044921 ..... 14.99

Butterfly Gardens (ages 4+)

There is something about watching butterfly metamorphosis that never gets old! Each of these kits include a mesh, pop-up butterfly habitat, an Online Redemption Voucher for five Painted Lady caterpillars, butterfly feeding kit, instructions for care, plus interesting butterfly facts. When your caterpillars arrive, watch them morph into chrysalises, then emerge as beautiful Painted Lady butterflies.

When they're ready, set them free! Please note that you will need to pay for shipping on the caterpillars (with the exception of the Home School Edition) and caterpillars will only be shipped in mild weather. Caterpillars can only be shipped to continental US addresses. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). ## Uncle Milton® Classic Ant Farm (ages 6+)

Since 1956, children and adults have enjoyed watching ant colony activity with this classic kit. The farm is a clear upright rectangular frame thin enough that the activity of the ants is viewable from the outside. Ants form various tunnels through the substrate as they go about their daily routines. Frame is break-resistant and escape-proof. Harvester ants must be ordered directly from the manufacturer (for shipment in continental U.S. only) for an additional shipping fee. 9 x 14.25 x 1.5. 069961 ..... 12.95

GeoSafari® Day 'N'

Night Ant Factory (ages 7+)

Care for your own ant colony with this unique habitat! Simply send in the included coupon for your own group of harvester ants, then introduce them to their new home. The 8" tall circle is half filled with a unique blue gel. Not only will the ants tunnel through the gel, they will have all the sustenance they need—no feeding or watering required! Want to add some extra fun? Put three AA batteries (not included) in the base; then push the button to start a cool, multicolored light show! The lights illuminate the gel, making it easy to see what your ants are up to any time of day. Please note: there is a shipping charge of $4 for the ants. 009886 ..... 23.95

Safari Ltd.® Life Cycle Sets (ages 4+)

Audubon Bird Spotting Opoly (ages 8+)

Not only is this birdwatching version of Monopoly beautiful, but players will also learn a little bit about both common and notable birds as you compete for the most bird-sightings! The game board features the artwork of John James Audubon, with bird species instead of neighborhoods. Collect bird-sightings and add eggs—and nests—to your bird spaces to collect additional rent. Bird-sighting cards feature brief information about the bird's habits on the back. Instead of Chance and Community Chest cards, there are Field Guide and Birder's Journal cards with birdwatching actions and events. Even the metal playing pieces are bird-themed, with an eagle, heron, owl, hummingbird, duck and binoculars to choose from. For 2-6 players.

What Bird Am I? The Bird Identification Game (ages 14+)

How well do you know your birds? In this game, the fewer clues you need to figure out the type of bird, the more points you'll score. The game is composed of 300 cards (at three different levels), with each card showing a photograph of the bird on one side and five clues and the name of the bird on the other. One player acts as the reader and reads the first clue to the player on their left, who is the answer. If the answer can name the bird after the first clue, they receive 5 points, if they need two clues, they get 4 points, etc, down to 0 points if they can't identify it. Then they become the new reader and play passes around the table. Whoever has the most points after eight rounds wins. For 2+ players.

Animal Tracks! (ages 5+)

Even young players can start identifying animal tracks with this fun game! Animal Tracks! includes 40 animal track cards and 40 animal cards. The track cards include a black print of the animal track, the animal's name, and the typical size of the track. Animal cards feature a full-color photo of the animal and its name. Directions for three games are printed inside the box lid (Yay! No papers to lose!); Concentration, Bingo, or "Guess the Tracks." If you're studying animals and/or tracking in your science curriculum, these would make nice thick flashcards as well.

Any way you use them, players are sure to gain familiarity with the shape of the animal tracks and the animals that make them, while having some fun too!

Grow Your Own Crystal Mini Worlds (ages 8+)

Grow crystals and then use them to create your own tiny dioramas, combined with miniature figurines, clay scenery, and paper cut-outs. There are three suggested "mini world" designs: a coral reef, a dragon's lair and a unicorn valley. Start by growing the crystals with pipe cleaner bases. Then mix and sculpt the air-dry clay to make a scene base and accessories for your scene. Assemble the cardstock jewel-shape diorama holders and then you're ready to assemble the scene! A combination of photographic and illustrated instructions make the whole process easy to follow. This Klutz kit includes instruction book, crystal powder, 4 colors of air-dry clay, 3 mini figurines, 3 display stands, paper cut-outs, glitter, pipe cleaners, dye tablets, craft sticks, thread and glue.

Dinosaur Escape Game (ages 4+)

Work together to get the dinos to safety before the volcano erupts! The game begins with 12 fern tokens face down in three different terrain areas. There are three desert areas as well, where no tokens are placed. Three dinosaurs on the mainland are in need of rescue, and players collectively try to get them to Dinosaur Island. This game fosters cooperation, memory, and basic counting. For 2-4 players. Game time: 10 minutes.

Dig it Up! Kits (ages 4+)

Excavation kits are always very popular right now, and this series ranks at the top of the list for me. They are bigger than most kits on the market, and with a couple of the cool dinosaur kits, the end result is a sturdy, antique-looking dinosaur skeleton that can be displayed. Have some BIG excavation fun!

Make a Dinosaur (ages 6+)

Master 3D puzzle builder meets modeling clay sculptor all in one fun kit! Create your own prehistoric friend with ease by following the online instruction video. Stage 1: construct the wooden skeleton by connecting the numbered slotted pieces together. Stage 2: use the air-drying modeling clay (6 pods per kit) to add flesh and fun details... the step-by-step video really helps.

Lastly, add the glass-like eyes to bring the dinosaur to life! Let it dry overnight, then begin your play-time dino adventure. A fun fact card gives you an interesting perspective on your new friend.

Real Fossils Excavation Kit (ages 7+)

Ah, the classic dig kit. Inspired by the work of paleontologists, dig kits have been a tried-and-true rainy day activity for hundreds – or at least dozens – of years. What sets these kits apart from some other lines are the plaster dig blocks (much nicer feeling than blocks made of loose pebbles that fly everywhere), a booklet with information about the uncovered discoveries and step-by-step instructions for how to excavate and clean your finds without frustration, and, my favorite, high-quality dig tools with some weight to them!

NEW Picasso Tiles® Solar Robots (ages 5+)

Build and learn solar powered STEAM kits offer kids creative play options that require no batteries. Kids learn the value of solar power and see what it can do as their DIY robots come to life. Robots operate and move by direct sunlight or under indoor light, but do offer a secondary power mode option with 1 AAA battery (not included) for function at night. Kits come with a step-by-step instruction manual for each diverse robotic build, which vary in themes like animals, insects, vehicles, and construction equipment. Although the packaging states 5+, I would recommend adult supervision with these kits until ages 8+.

Liquify Deluxe Rocket Kit (ages 7+)

The simple powers of air pressure and H2O blast this rocket high into the sky! Simply pour water into the rocket body, attach the fins and valve, then plug the hand pump in and set to work! The rocket launches on its own once enough pressure has been built up and can reach heights of 100 feet with the included rocket body. There's a high launch valve and a low launch valve to experiment with; additionally, the included apparatus is compatible with most soda bottles, so varying the size of the bottle and level of water will produce different launch results. The ease of use makes for a good time without the frustration of more complex rocket models and builds.

Snap Circuits® (ages 8+)

Why play with pretend construction games and toys and imagine the things you can create when you could play with electronic snap-together components and create things that really work like fans, lights, clap sensors and alarms? An impressively detailed book features each experiment with a full-color diagram of the completed setup, an objective, and directions. Directions are clear and complete and even include an explanation of how the bomb sounds or simple water alarm works (which they'll maybe come back and read when the initial thrill of playing wears off). Available in several sizes, each has a different number of parts and possible experiments or projects to complete. A Dr. Toy 100 Best Children's Products Award Winner. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). ### Teach Tech King Lizard Robot Kit (ages 8+)

Are you into robotics, but don't just want another nameless, bumbling, human-shaped thing? Perhaps you crave something that mimics nature's many wonders like a Frilled Lizard robot. Well, amazingly, you've found that exact thing! Once assembled, this interactive robot can be set on two modes: "defense mode" and "pet mode". When set to "defense mode" this little guy will detect threats and respond accordingly by backing away, opening its mouth, puffing its frill, and running! On "pet mode" this reptile companion is a bit friendlier, albeit still cautious. It will still display its frill when feeling threatened, but when it feels safe it will follow you around adorably. Although the recommended age range is 10 and up, it is worth noting that assembly is somewhat complex and requires time, patience, and vigilance. Instructions are diagrammed pictures, so little reading is required.

However, there are some recommended tools not included. These are a diagonal cutter, a Phillips head screwdriver, a knife, and a hammer. In addition, the robot requires four AAA batteries (not included). Winner of Creative Child and Dr. Toy Awards in 2015. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Artie 3000 The Coding Robot (ages 7-12)

Artie is the cutest little robot for your child's next step in coding. Artie interfaces with your computer using its built-in WIFI and built-in browser apps. Artie comes pre-programmed with designs, shapes, and games, but you can use the easy-to-follow instructions to make your own. Coding begins by using the Artie UI app in which you drag and drop your commands. Artie also offers other coding apps to expand your coding knowledge – Blockly, Javascript, Snap!, Point and Click, Python, and Remote Control. Artie works best with a computer or tablet because of the larger screens. Artie comes with four felt tip pens that insert into the lower portion. The pens can be coded to raise and lower to create your design. Use 8.5"x11" or larger sheets of paper for your designs.

Botley™ the Coding Robot (ages 5+)

Screen-free programming for the wee coders in the family! Botley is an interesting introduction to programming, requiring nothing more than a remote-control programmer. In addition to following up to 80 programmed steps, Botley is able to detect and avoid obstacles, follow programmed "loop" commands (go forward, turn, go forward, turn, etc.), and even sense and follow black lines without the need for programming. The idea is to combine Botley with "active challenges" for kids to solve – following a route, finishing an obstacle course, or even playing a simple game (such as pushing a ball into a goal). Once kids understand the basics, Botley can be used for just about any simple activity they can think of! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

RE/CO Robot Kit (ages 8+)

Equipped with an infrared sensor, and artificial intelligence, this adventurous robot offers wireless remote and tank-like tracks, allowing it to go places that Kiko can't! But this is only part of the great updates RE/CO offers! With the remote access, children can access new play modes like storytelling, singing, dancing, and programming!

From the DIY assembly and easy programming, children will experience STEAM learning in a whole new way through the three action modes: patrol mode, obstacle navigation and arm rotation. Includes 106 pieces and detailed instructions. 4 AAA, 2 AA batteries, pliers, and screwdriver required, not included. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

KC3 Keypad Coding Robot (ages 8+)

This adorable robot will be your new best friend! Measuring just 6" tall, you can build and rebuild him to complete three different functions. He draws, sweeps, and shoots little foam darts! Using simple keypad coding on the robot, he is able to move and turn in 8 directions (forward or backward, right or left, back right or back left, right rotate or left rotate). Once you get the hang of how he works, you can make up your own little challenges for him to complete! Requires 4 AAA batteries, not included.

Turing Tumble (ages 8+)

Part programming and part logic puzzle, the Turing Tumble is a brilliant teaching tool for basic programming. It begins as an unassuming plastic peg-board with slots for falling marbles; think "Plinko machine." The goal is to turn the empty board into a simple computer by attaching six marble-carrying analog equivalents of digital machinery: Ramps (direct balls down the board – circuits), Crossovers (change the direction of balls – also circuits), Bits (can be turned "left" or "right" – represent 0 or 1), Interceptors (prevent a marble from releasing more marbles – a "STOP" command), and Gears / Gear Bits (store information by being pointed "right" or "left" – a sort of register).

Accompanying this setup is a fully-illustrated puzzle guide (in the style of code output) with 60 challenges of increasing difficulty. Each has an Objective, ("Let exactly 9 blue balls reach the end. Intercept the 10th."), Required Output, (a pattern of Blue and/or Red marbles), Starting Setup (with a few key pointers), and Available Parts (what kids need to solve the puzzle). Interwoven with the guide is the story of a young space engineer who must escape an abandoned planet. Each puzzle brings her closer to rescue, seamlessly integrating the story and activity to help keep kids engaged. Perfect for learning logic, basic computing, and screen-free fun!

Tobbie II Coding Robot (ages 10+)

Build your own functional robot and program it through a web app on your computer, laptop, smartphone, or tablet (iOS® and Android® device) using Javascript Blocks Editor or, for more advanced programmers, Python® Editor. It allows for unlimited possibilities as it combines micro:bit technology with your creative engineering mind. The robot has six legs, a 360-degree rotating body, and looks like a droid! You can download 12 programs for Tobbie II right away to do activities such as light tracking, rock-paper-scissors, bowling, and more. Then get programming with the web app and write your own code for Tobbie II to perform. Requires 4 AA batteries, not included.

Mech 5 Mechanical Coding Robot (ages 10+)

This unique, and (I think) adorable little robot is a great introduction to robotics and mechanical engineering. Robot movements are centered around a coding wheel that you snap different instructional buttons onto. The robot can move right, left, forward, backwards, spin or pause and complete tasks such as throwing, drawing, lifting, or kicking. As you become more familiar with the robot, you are able to complete more challenging functions. It's so rewarding to figure out the mechanics, and work through the different obstacles and challenges you encounter. See your efforts in motion as the robot completes the tasks you've assigned. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Smartivity Playsets (ages 8+)

Combining learning and fun, these high-quality DIY playsets are sure to secure a place in your child's educational playtime! Each laser-cut wood set revolves around a scientific or mechanical principle and can be built from scratch in an hour or less. Full-color, step-by-step instructions are provided to assemble each major piece before combining it all together to create a working machine! Along the way, a "Learner's Log" illustrates important scientific and mechanical principles. When completed, simple activities or projects to try are included. No glue or adhesives are required; sturdy wooden fasteners and rubber-bands are included as necessary, allowing kids an easy, clean building process.

Fully-functional mechanical models from nothing but laser-cut plywood. Once completed, the scale model operates just like the real thing, mimicking behavior as closely as 1/8th-inch plywood (and a few extra bits) can. Safes have combination locks, engines have push pistons, and vehicles feature functioning transmissions and rubber-band powered motors. Each kit contains sheets of laser-cut pieces, with each piece numbered according to its chronological use in the instructions. The booklet itself is the veritable pièce de résistance of the kits, utilizing full-color 3D illustrations, "magnified" steps for small pieces, a straightforward labeling system, and helpful symbols for tricky steps.

All components are natural and sustainably-sourced with no glue required. Estimated hours to build listed with each. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Pathfinders Kits (ages 9+)

See scientific principles in action with these all-natural, untreated wood model kits. Each comes as a set of pre-cut pieces with illustrated instructions. Once assembled, each becomes a fully-functional, moveable model. The catapult, for example, stands just 8" tall but can fling small objects over 15 feet. Even more impressive, the catapult's construction relies on construction techniques of the time - no Phillips-head screws here! A tiny rope strung through the middle and wound by torsion bars gives the catapult its power, allowing it to hurl small objects such as fruit, marshmallows, or even tiny rocks in the exact same way several-hundred-pound projectiles were once thrown in medieval times.

Pepper Mint, an eleven-year-old girl, loves figuring out how things work and creating her own inventions. Join her on her adventures to build useful contraptions. In each kit, Pepper sets off on a new journey - into the jungle or the sea - and creates or uses systems that you build. For instance, in the Underwater Science Kit, she must build a hydraulic powered crane when the electricity on her ship goes out. After you make the system with her, the manual explains the principles behind the machine (like how force is transferred with water), how it works, and encourages you to experiment with design. ## Pegloom (ages 5+)

The Pegloom is a great way for young beginners to learn how to weave. It is constructed of sturdy hardwood, and its slanted pegs on both sides ensure weavings in progress don't fall off. Instead of shuttles, children weave the wool yarn through the loom with a sturdy plastic needle. The 7" x 10" loom is perfect for making projects such as wall hangings, purses, coasters, blankets and rugs for dolls. Pegloom comes with cotton warp string, 100% wool yarns, plastic needle, and illustrated instructions.

Traditional Potholder Kits (ages 6+)

Making potholders is a great introduction to weaving, and a fun, relaxing activity too. And the results are very practical! Both of these kits are designed to last, with sturdy metal looms and metal weaving hooks. The metal loom pegs slant outward to prevent loops from slipping off, which is especially helpful for young kids! The loops included with each kit are 100% cotton, and custom-sized to fit the loom. The instructions include directions on starting and finishing potholders, along with design ideas and suggestions for additional projects. The Traditional Kit includes enough cotton loops to make 2 potholders, while the Deluxe Kit makes 6. Each Lotta Loops Refill makes about 8 potholders and 5lb. bags make approximately 50 potholders.

NEW smART sketcher® 2.0 (ages 5+)

Anyone can be a topnotch artist with this tech updated, savvy art projector! The 2.0 projector takes the award-winning smART sketcher® projector to the next level with improved hardware, a sturdier base, fresh content, durable cartridges, and built-in cartridge storage. The smART Sketcher 2.0 projector is a unique STEAM learning toy that puts the fun of drawing into the hands of kids with step-by-step sketching activities. With 60 preloaded activities, 4 colored pencils, 20 sheets of paper and AC Adapter, the Projector itself is enough to release your child's creativity. Additional cartridges are available with themed drawings packs or creativity sets with pencils, crayons, markers, frames, and more. Curious how it works? Simply select a project and let the smART sketcher 2.0 project a step-by-step sequence of that project onto your blank paper below allowing you to trace along. (Note: works best in a dimly lit room.) A downloadable, free smART sketcher® 2.0 app allows you to expand options by letting kids take a photo, project it on paper for sketching. Components are not compatible with the original smART Sketcher. ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3 yrs.

Go Fish™ for Art (ages 7+)

When you mix art appreciation with classic card games, you get the added bonus of having something more interesting than hearts or spades to look at, and you might learn something as well. "Go Fish for Art" is very similar to "Go Fish", but players must collect all the works of art by that artist to make a set. In "Concentration", all cards are turned face-down, and players must turn over works of art by the same artist to keep that set. While they play the games, kids will seamlessly learn to recognize different artists' distinct styles, and what kinds of art define a specific style.

Kinetic Sand™ (ages 4+)

This 98% pure sand compound acts as a sort of “sand in motion”, never retaining its shape for long before it falls apart.

As you play with it, it feels almost like wet sand, but it's completely dry. It doesn't stick to any surface (other than itself), including your hands. It never dries out and it permanently retains its feel without leaving residue. Hold it firmly and watch it slowly crumble after a short time. Play, mold, have fun! Original Kinetic Sand® featured here—see other variations and activity sets on our website! ▲CHOKING HAZARD (1). Not <3yrs.

Build Your Own Art Gift

It can be tough to find a good art gift for a child or friend who enjoys art; although all-inclusive kits have fun packaging and are easy to wrap, they can often include substandard or limited supplies. On the other hand, it can be overwhelming and confusing to shop for art paper or supplies online or in a retail store—there are so many brands and options! To help you pull together an art gift that is both good quality and personally chosen by you, we have curated some lists of art media (Step 1), accessories (Step 2), and paper (Step 3) and so you can put together a gift that fits your gift recipient's interests and your budget. All of the items featured here are either recommended supplies from art curriculum kits, have been personally used by our staff, or have been positively reviewed by our customers. While not all listed are professional grade like Prismacolor® or Lyra®, all are good quality for students from grade school through high school or casual hobbyists. And finally, if you still can't decide, remember that quality paper like Canson and Strathmore is always a good choice!

Music Maker Harp (ages 4+)

Anyone can play great sounding music on these wooden harps! Just slide your sheet of music between the strings and wood. The notes show up directly under the corresponding strings, so even young children can play songs with ease. The harp comes with twelve songs, a tuner, an extra wire, and a pick. Please note that you can also purchase additional accessories. The "pick pack" includes a pick, a small tuner, and spare wire. The pick clip is a pick attached with a non-removable string to a small clip, allowing you to clip it directly onto your harp so you can easily keep track of it. Harp measures 13" x 8" x 2".

All Wood Soprano Ukulele (ages 5+)

There's something so soothing about strumming an instrument. This ukulele provides the perfect outlet for those restless fingers. I tuned the ukulele first, which was easy using the included pitch pipe and instructions. Then I practiced playing the 20 different chords from the instruction sheet. This ukulele is good quality for the price. It has a wooden body, with nylon strings, plastic tuners, and metal frets. It provides a pleasant tone when played, with a nice round depth and warmth to its sound. The ukulele measures about 21" long and 2.5" thick. You'll have hours of fun with this jovial little instrument!

Melody Harp (ages 4+)

Introduce your little one to music making with the Melody Harp! This 14.5" x 8" harp makes it easy to play charming tunes. Simply slip one of the six included song sheets under the strings and follow along. This wooden harp also includes a tuner, rubber feet, a pick, a replacement string, and a lifetime string replacement guarantee! Parents may want to note – this harp is compatible with Music Maker song sheets and case, though those sheets are slightly larger and will require a little careful trimming to fit this harp.

Student Acoustic Guitars (ages 5+)

No need to limit your kids to the air guitar any longer – these quality guitars are specifically sized for younger children. With the same great sound as larger guitars and sturdy construction, your children will enjoy making music on a guitar that's perfect for their size and skill level. Real crafted wood, steel tuning gears, and strings placed close to the fingerboard make these acoustic guitars sound like the real thing. The 34" size is recommended for ages 8 and up, and the 30" is recommended for ages 5 and up (or for smaller-sized children). The red and black zippered nylon carrying case fits the 34" guitar, and the blue and black case fits the 30" guitar.

BoomWhackers® Tuned Percussion Tubes (ages 4+)

With BoomWhackers®, everyone can make music - and it's addictive fun, too! BoomWhackers® are plastic tubes of different lengths that each produce a different note when struck. The tubes are pretty large (about 12" to 24" long and 1.5" in diameter). Place them in a row to play like a xylophone, strike them with mallets, hit them against another object, or bang two together for an interesting note combination. Fun to play, these are a great introduction to music for young children or anyone who is intimidated by piano or recorder!

The Christmas Star from Afar (ages 3+)

Inspired by the ever-popular elf tradition, Star from Afar is a Christmas-themed hide-and-seek game for kids. The idea is to hide the star each night leading up to Christmas, allowing your children to find it and place the Three Wise Men next to it the following day. This is repeated each night until Christmas Eve, when the star is placed atop the nativity stable. On Christmas Day, your kids can make their way with the Three Wise Men to the stable, finally finding the star and baby Jesus in his manger!

PayPal payments are accepted on our website.

Checks are accepted for orders sent by mail.

Privacy Policy: This is Rainbow Resource Center's promise to you: we will not sell, rent or give out your personal information to any other organization.

Pricing & Availability

We work hard to hold our catalog prices but prices are subject to change without notice. Up to date availability information is provided on our website on the item detail page. Catalog items that are not in stock will not be available for backorder. Due to continued shipping delays and manufacturing disruptions, some items may be out of stock for extended periods of time. We recommend ordering early for best selection. If you are not ordering online, you may want to contact customer service the next business day to check for out of stock items.

Backorder Policy

Item availability information is provided on our website directly below the price on the product detail page. If an item is on extended backorder with the supplier, you will see this information displayed. If we run out of stock on an item in our catalog, this item will not be available to order (or backorder) until we receive more inventory.

Other items on our website may go out of stock temporarily. These are short-term backorders and more inventory usually arrive in our warehouse in one to two weeks. If an order is placed that includes one or more out of stock items, we charge for the whole order at the time it is placed, notify you via email of any backordered items, and ship backordered items separately from in-stock items. Because we receive inventory every business day, we may hold domestic orders with backorders up to 5 business days and international orders up to 10 business days to ship all items together. However, if the expected in-stock date is more than 5 business days from the date the order was received, we ship the in-stock items, and then ship the backordered item separately when it arrives in our warehouse. Any backordered items will be noted at the bottom of your packing slip. You may cancel a backorder at any time prior to shipping for a refund. Backorders will not be held more than 60 days. If a backordered item has not shipped within 60 days from the date it was ordered, it will be automatically cancelled and a refund for the item will be issued. Please note that "packages" (a group of items assembled by us with an alphanumeric code (instead of an item number) contain multiple items and items within a package may be backordered.

Return Policy

Upon receiving your order, please inspect it for damages or shipping errors. If this occurs, please contact customer service at info@rainbowresource.com. You may return any item, other than electronic media, within 30 days of original shipping date for a full refund of the price paid for the item (shipping not refunded) if item is received in new condition. After 30 days but before six months, we accept returns on these same items, but we charge a 10% restocking fee. Orders that qualified for free shipping will be assessed a shipping charge if the items returned from those orders cause the original order total to drop below the free shipping threshold.

Shrink-wrapped items should be returned shrink-wrapped to receive a refund. We do not accept items for return that we no longer offer for sale. Please note that electronic media cannot be returned. Items returned in damaged condition will not be refunded, even if damage occurred in return shipping, as items are not resalable. NO RETURNS AFTER SIX MONTHS.

To return items, wrap and box them securely to avoid damage, include a copy of the packing slip or receipt, and mark the outside of the package "RETURN" in large letters. For credit to a credit card, please include credit card number and expiration date. Please avoid using newspaper or other similar material as packing material as it may smear the items. Also, do not use any of the items as a flat surface to write return notes or other information, as this may leave a permanent etching on the item. We suggest that you ship your return by UPS or Fed Ex (as it is insured automatically for up to $100). If you ship through the Post Office, please insure the package. Please allow 4 to 6 weeks to process your return.

No Exchanges - each order is a new order with applicable shipping charges.
