

Introduction

You are starting a year-long program called Daily Grammar Practice (or DGP for short). Think of grammar like a bottle of vitamins. If you take one a day, they'll be good for you. If you take the whole bottle at once, you'll just get sick! Doing DGP is like taking a grammar vitamin each day. You'll have one little thing to do each day, but it will be good for you. It will really help you to understand grammar.

Each week, you will do a new page of your workbook. Follow the directions for each day. Your whole class might do the work together, or your teacher might tell you to do the work by yourself. Either way, your teacher will check each day to see if you have tried the assignment. It's okay if you get some of the answers wrong, but you should try your best. Your class will then go over the correct answers together. If you have made any errors, you should correct them in your workbook.

You will spend only a few minutes each day on DGP. If you have any questions, you should be sure to ask. For the first few weeks, the daily tasks will probably be difficult, but don't worry! The more DGP you do, the easier it will become.

This workbook includes some pages that will help you do your DGP. First, you will find a page that shows you how to mark your answers. Next, you will see a sample of what your work should look like each week. Finally, you will see help pages for you to look back at as often as you need to.

Good luck with DGP. Remember that if you try your best every day, you will learn all you need to know about grammar.
